Japanese Evacuate Homes

Tokyo residents along the Tone River move their household belongings to the rooftops and from the roofs to boats, rafts and anything which will float, as waters rise. Floods, caused by typhoons, have left almost 500 known dead and about 2,000 missing. Houses swept away are estimated to total 285,000.

B.C. Awarded Highest Honor For Best Weekly Newspaper

British Columbia papers made a prominent showing in the annual better newspapers competitions held by the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. Prizewinners were announced to the convention this afternoon.

Taking top honors for the best all-round paper with a circulation of 2,000 or more was the Kamloops Sentinel, with the Vernon News taking second place. Third honors went to the Brampton (Ont.) Conservator. The award is the Mason trophy.

The judges drew attention to the excellence of the Penitence Herald and two other newspapers competing for this award, saying "these papers, with the three winners, reflect great credit to the C.W.N.A. publications."

Only prize-winner from Vancouver Island was the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review, published at Sidney by F. Ford, which was awarded the third prize in the M. A. James Memorial Trophy competition for the best front page in newspapers with circulations between 1,000 and 2,000.

The Kamloops Sentinel won a total of 86.9 points out of a possible 100, and the Vernon News won 86.5.

Other awards were as follows: David Williams Cup for the best editorial page in weeklies with circulations of more than 2,000:

1. Pictou (N.S.) Advocate. 2. Fort Erie (Ont.) Times Review. 3. Vernon News.

The Amherstburg Echo Shield, awarded for the best front page in newspapers with circulations exceeding 2,000:

1. Brampton Conservator. 2. Vernon News. 3. Kamloops Sentinel.

The Charles Clark Cup, for best all-round newspaper with circulation of 1,000 to 2,000:

1. Weyburn (Sask.) Review; 2. Elmwood (Man.) Herald; 3. Haney (B.C.) Gazette.

The Malcolm Macbeth Shield, for best editorial page in newspapers with circulations of 1,000 to 2,000:

1. Fergus (Ont.) News Record; 2. Creston (B.C.) Review; 3. Petrolia (Ont.) Advertiser and Wolfville (N.S.) Acadia (tied).

The M. A. James Memorial trophy, for the best front page in newspapers with circulations of 1,000 to 2,000:

1. Elmwood (Man.) Herald; 2. Haney (B.C.) Gazette; 3. Sidney Review.

Hugh Savage Shield for best all-round newspaper with circulation of 500 to 1,000:

1. Ladner (B.C.) Optimist; 2. Elora (Ont.) Express; 3. Brighton (Ont.) Ensign.

The John W. Eddy Memorial Trophy, for best editorial page in newspapers with circulations of 500 to 1,000:

1. Elora Express; 2. Clarendon (Alta.) Local Press; Geraldton (Ont.) Times-Star.

6 Provinces To Attend Ontario Strike Parley

By Canadian Press
Five provinces have accepted an Ontario government invitation to send representatives to Toronto for a conference Friday on means of settling the 10-day-old nationwide strike of packing-house workers.

Premier Drew of Ontario, who proposed the conference, said the premiers of Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and New Brunswick had informed him they would send their labor ministers or other representatives.

Still to be heard from are the three other provinces—British Columbia, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. But Mr. Drew said the conference "definitely will take place."

Premier Hart of British Columbia said he had no comment to make until he had studied the Drew proposal. Premier MacDonald of Nova Scotia intended to discuss it today with his Labor Minister before making a decision. There was no word from Prince Edward Island.

12,000 IDLE

Upwards of 12,000 members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) are on strike against Swift Canadian, Canada Packers and Burns and Company to enforce demands for an average of 17 cents an hour wage increase to bring the hourly minimum to 92 cents an hour.

Quebec's Premier Duplessis said he would comment today, but sources in the provincial capital said they felt certain the Quebec Labor Minister would attend the Toronto meeting.

The union insists on conciliation on a nation-wide scale rather than settlements with individual provinces. Premier Drew said the Toronto conference would consider among other suggestions the proposal that a common conciliator for all the provinces be appointed.

Previous settlement attempts have failed due to the union's rejection of provisions that it send its members back to work during efforts at conciliation or arbitration.

QUEBEC (CP)—Some 300 employees of Quebec's leading slaughterhouses—La Cooperative Federée and Legrand Incorporee—stayed away from their jobs today in sympathy with the nationwide packinghouse workers' strike.

United Nations Returns To Headquarters With Agenda

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—Today the United Nations returned to this Long Island headquarters where modernistic committee rooms will furnish the stages for what may prove multiple repetitions of the bitter debates ended when the plenary sessions of the General Assembly were suspended Tuesday at Flushing.

All six standing committees of the Assembly were sitting at varying times, including the political committee, to which is assigned most of the highly charged subjects for debate.

His fight and that of his colleagues from the Slav block countries presumably was not nearly so hard as it will be later on. In view of the known line-up of Assembly votes he probably expected defeat. Nonetheless he forced the issues and got the results on the record.

They shape up this way:

On the U.S. proposal that the General Assembly try to restore Korean independence, the vote was 41-6, with seven countries not voting.

On Argentina's Italian peace treaty revision proposal, the vote was 22-8, with 19 countries not voting, among them Britain and France.

On the U.S. appeal for Assembly action on the Greek crisis, the vote was 38-6, with nine countries not voting.

COUNT ON 6 VOTES

Those were the main ballots. They disclosed that the Russians under pressure at this time could count only on their own vote and five others in the Slav bloc—Soviet Ukraine, Soviet Byelorussia, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

The Assembly has no vote. Decision on such procedural questions as the adoption are made by straight majority votes. Thus Russia found herself today in a weak minority position in her contest with the United States for leadership in the Assembly.

ST. ANNES-ON-THE-SEA, Lancs., Eng. (AP)—Henry Cotton, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, defeated Norman von Nida of Australia, 4 and 2, in the opening round of the British Professional Golfers' Association match play championship today.

An estimated 10,000 fans, forming the largest golf gallery of the season, surged over the 6,632-yard course to see the duel between the Australian, 1947 medal play champion, and Cotton, who opened defence of his match play title. Cotton won four of the first eight holes.

Nations To Share Portion Of Gold Taken From Foe

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Allied Big Three commission has agreed to make a prompt distribution of part of a $330,000,000 gold store seized during the war from the Germans as a means of helping meet critical financial needs of European countries.

Robert Lovett, U.S. Under-Secretary of State, said today that representatives of the United States, Britain and France, forming a "gold pot" commission, had agreed to restore the gold to those countries from which it was looted by the Nazis.

Lovett told a press conference that only about half of the gold pot could be distributed immediately. In answer to a question, he said he believed use of the gold would not eliminate the need for stop-gap emergency aid for western Europe from the United States.

TO SAVE FRANCE

But, he added, it would be a substantial help and might help to ease France over her present financial difficulties.

Eleven countries have filed claims to the money, totaling nearly $800,000,000, and Lovett explained about half the amount now in hand will have to be withheld to meet claims.

Aside from France, the claimants include Albania, Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Poland and Yugoslavia.

IROQUOIS, Ont. (CP)—Two veteran Great Lakes ships—one an oil-laden tanker, the other a coal carrier—collided full force early today, setting off a huge blast which rocked the colorful International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence River.

The explosion, which tore apart the tanker Translake as its store of oil gushed over the coal carrier, accounted for at least one death, while 10 others of the crew of 26 aboard the collier Milverton still were unaccounted for at mid-afternoon. The entire crew of 22 aboard the Translake were reported safe on the United States side of the river. Thirteen crew members of the collier are in hospital.

The Milverton was heavily laden and the oil spouting from the tanker caught fire immediately and the flames swept forward over the collier, its captain, L. E. Pain of Montreal, said from his hospital bed at Ogdensburg, N.Y., across the river.

MATE LOSES LIFE

The Milverton's second mate, William Robertson of Toronto, died before he could reach the hospital at Ogdensburg. It was believed the collier's third engineer, F. Dobson of Montreal, also died in the blast, but immediate confirmation was not obtainable.

As the crew of the blazing collier took to the water in the still canal section of the river, local farmers awakened by the explosion in the early morning hours went to the rescue. Confusion grew as some of the crew members swam to the United States side of the river, others headed for the Canadian shore and rescuers pulled others from the water.

Over the scene there hung a cloud of dense black smoke, red-tinged by a tower of flame in the centre. The smoke became denser making rescue work in the dim light difficult.

CROSSED PATH

The 2,600-ton Milverton, heavily laden with coal, was bound from Oswego, N.Y., to Port Alfred, Que. Capt. Pain said his vessel was moving downstream when the tanker, upbound, cut across her bow.

"The tanker must have jammed her steering gear," he said. "She cut directly across my bow."

"There were no possibilities of stopping my ship and we struck her amidships."

The Translake was carrying a cargo of crude oil from Montreal to Prescott, Ont., 15 miles from here. The tanker, with oil continuing to gush from a huge hole in its side, slowly sank on the spot, while the blazing Milverton headed for the U.S. shore and beached.

It had stopped at the Dugald station 20 miles east of Winnipeg to let off passengers. The east-bound order board showed red, indicating there was oncoming traffic from the east.

What the west-bound order board indicated was not noticed at the time, a fact which railway officials said later was natural since the west-bound board was so placed as to give best visibility to the Campers' Special. After the collision, when the board was checked, it showed red.

The expectation had been that the special would stop, the switch would be thrown, and it would move into the siding to give the east-bound train a clear road.

WORST ON PRAIRIES

Failure of either train to use the siding brought on the worst railway tragedy in western Canadian history, with 31 persons

Winnipeg (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners today continued its hearing into the Labor Day train wreck at Dugald, Man., seeking to determine why the Canadian National Railway's Campers' Special failed to take to a siding as crew members of the other train had expected.

Preliminary evidence heard at the inquiry's opening here Tuesday suggested that not only did the crew of the east-bound passenger train—standing at the station waiting for the special—expect the holiday train from Minaki, Ont., to take to the siding, but orders had been issued, which normally would have routed the special to the side track.

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton, just back from the Commonwealth conference in Canberra on the Japanese peace treaty, said here today the Canadian government hoped a settlement can be achieved as soon as possible to permit Japan to resume trade with other countries, including Canada.

"Until we get the Pacific and other areas trading again there cannot be prosperity and a secure peace," he said at a press conference, adding that Japan, of course, would not be in any position to trade as she did before the war.

Speaking of the proposed treaty, Mr. Claxton said conditions already laid down for Japan under the Potsdam agreement would make the situation "very tight" in Japan.

BEING DEMOCRATIZED

He said discussions in Canberra indicated Japan had been completely disarmed and democratization and demilitarization were being carried out under "the invincible direction" of Gen. MacArthur, commander-in-chief in Japan.

However, the main fear of a good many nations concerned with the Japanese problem, Mr. Claxton continued, was that as a consequence of the war and the peace conditions already laid down by the Potsdam agreement the Japanese economy may be so severely affected that it might be difficult for her to survive.

On the question of reparations from Japan, Mr. Claxton disclosed Canada holds Japanese external assets "understood to be of the magnitude of $5,000,000" and that claims already filed against these assets are about the same.

INSURANCE BUSINESS

Largest Canadian interest in Japan before the war was in the insurance business, he said. "We had the biggest life insurance business in Japan among foreign companies and we will take care in the treaty-making to safeguard this interest. I don't anticipate much difficulty."

A dispatch from Ottawa Tuesday read as follows:

The most serious immediate question in getting the machinery under way to work out a Japanese peace treaty is whether Russia will co-operate, but there is a general hope in Ottawa that the Soviet will participate in the settlement.

450 Publishers Welcomed To Victoria Stress Progress Of Weekly Newspapers

Publishers of weekly newspapers in convention here got down to business today as the 28th annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association was formally opened at the Empress Hotel.

Welcoming the 450 publishers from all parts of the nation to what is believed to be the largest convention ever held by the organization, was R. P. MacLean, publisher of the Kelowna Courier, and president of the B.C. division of the association. He expressed the wish that the convention delegates would be rewarded by the discussions and that their trip to B.C. would give them a better understanding of the province.

Walter Ashfield, publisher of the Grenfell (Sask.) Sun and president of the national organization, then read his speech of welcome to the convention which is meeting here for three days.

ONE OF LARGEST CONVENTIONS

Mr. Ashfield noted that the convention is "one of the largest, if not the largest, gathering of the weekly newspaper publishers ever held in Canada."

Delegates, paid standing tribute to those publishers who, in the words of Mr. Ashfield, "have laid down the pen and quietly slipped away to rest" since the last convention held in Halifax. Twelve publishers were mentioned by name.

"Returning to the newspaper world after an absence of seven years," said Mr. Ashfield, a veteran of World War II service, "I observe a very marked improvement in the status and general functioning of the weekly newspapers. Many more weeklies are paying greater attention to news coverage and editorials and there is no doubt that the Better Newspaper Competition is very much responsible."

Mr. Ashfield reported a slight decrease in membership since the last convention, partially due to increases in fees. Membership at the time the report was prepared totaled 588, he said.

Improvement in the financial state of the association may make possible a reduction in the fees in the coming year, said Mr. Ashfield.

GREETINGS FROM PRIME MINISTER

To the convention greetings were read from Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who said "the editors of the weekly newspapers throughout Canada occupy a position of great responsibility and play a most effective part in the life of the nation."

At noon today the delegates were guests of the city of Victoria at a luncheon held in the Empress Hotel. Mayor Percy George presided.

While the women this afternoon proceeded to Butchart's Gardens on a sightseeing trip, the delegates heard the announcement of awards for weekly newspapers in competitions held throughout the country.

Gallup Poll

No Particular Group In U.S. Blamed For Rise In Prices

By AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

PRINCETON, N.J.—A Senate committee last week began a series of hearings embracing 12 cities in an attempt to diagnose the cause of today's soaring living costs.

If the committee visited every city in the U.S. and asked all citizens to name the group or groups responsible for skyrocketing food and other prices, they would not find the public's ire focussed on any one scapegoat.

While there is a lot of talk and great exasperation about prices, it is going to be very difficult to make political capital out of the high cost of living. At this stage certainly no evidence exists of any such unanimity of opinion among voters.

"Do you blame anyone for present high prices?"

Yes 56%
No 34%
No opinion 14%

The voters who said they did hold someone responsible were then asked whom they blamed. Their replies:

Government 17%
Business and industry 14%
Labor 7%
Everyone 7%
Republicans 3%
Farmers 2%
Miscellaneous 2%

(Adds to more than 56% because some gave more than one answer)

Thus, the largest single bloc of opinion in the country (36%) holds no one responsible. The next largest group places the blame on government, which could mean either of the major political parties since they share power in Washington. Those blaming business and industry are similarly divided among voters who name "retailers," "wholesalers," "manufacturers," "distributors," etc., and the answer "labor" is made up of such responses as "labor leaders," "labor," "union labor," "strikers," etc.

When the problem is considered from the more constructive approach of trying to find a remedy for high prices, voters' opinions are as varied as they are as to the cause.

The question was asked:

"What do you think could be done to bring about lower prices?"

The replies:

Buyers strike, stop unnecessary buying 25%
Return to government regulation 13%
Eliminate strikes, reduce wages 12%
Increase production 12%
Lower business profits 5%
Business should voluntarily lower prices 2%
Stop exporting so much 2%
Change the administration 1%
Everybody co-operate 1%
Miscellaneous 7%
No way to bring prices down 7%
Don't know 34%

Some people gave several answers so the total adds to more than 100 per cent.

Of course, if prices continue to rise, substantial support for any one of these remedies might develop, such as heightened public demand for return to some kind of government control.

Politics Blamed For U.S. Delay In Approving St. Lawrence Scheme

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advocate of the long-discussed St. Lawrence seaway and power project asserted today that "were it not for political considerations, this great international development would now bear the approval of Congress."

Dr. N. R. Danalien, vice-president of the National St. Lawrence Association, commenting on the recent inspection of the proposed seaway by the House of Representatives public works committee which has before it legislation to authorize the development, also said:

"The committee must know now that there is great popular demand for the seaway and that it is not being promoted by only a few."

Members of the committee, while declining to express an individual stand on the legislation upon which they will eventually be called to pass, gave assurances "that they will look at it thoroughly and objectively."

"I would be very surprised," Danalien added, "if the measure failed to receive a favorable committee vote."

The legislation, which has been approved by the Senate foreign relations committee and is thus headed for early consideration by the Senate next session, provides that the half-billion-dollar development be made self-liquidating through imposition of tolls.

Meanwhile, a veteran congressional observer of the St. Lawrence project privately told a reporter:

"In my opinion, the chance for the seaway winning congressional approval is the greatest today that it has ever been."

"It would not surprise me to see that approval granted in the session beginning next January."

Churchill Grain Shipments Larger Than Vancouver's

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—

When navigation closes at this northern Manitoba port around the middle of October, Churchill is expected to have set two records.

It will have exported a record amount of grain, slightly better than the 4,293,501 bushels shipped through the Hudson Bay route in 1936, and it will have reached the stature of Canada's second largest wheat exporting port.

Normally Vancouver holds the second honor, but this summer, because of depletion of stocks when the new crop year started Aug. 1, its wheat exports have fallen below average. Wet weather in Alberta, halting deliveries from that province to the B.C. port, contributed to this falling-off.

Statistics released by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways show 3,663,754 bushels of wheat moved through Churchill during the Aug. 1-Sept. 20 period. During the same time 3,200,000 bushels were moved through Vancouver.

Montreal, however, took top honors with 7,566,000 bushels exported.

Hits Aid To Britain

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Senator Clyde M. Reed (Rep.-Kas.) called aid to Britain "fantastic" when "its miners won't even mine coal" and expressed opposition Tuesday to another loan at present. He said in an interview he would not vote "another cent" for aid until Great Britain "puts its economic house, including labor, in order."

Volume Of Poems Posthumous Issue By R.C.A.F. Flier

LATE FLT. SGT. ARTHUR TOOTH

A conspicuous addition to the lore of postwar literature was made today with the publication by the Exposition Press of New York of "Flight's End," a posthumous volume of verse by Flt. Sgt. Arthur Tooth, R.C.A.F.

He was the husband of Mrs. Helen Tooth, Victoria Times City Hall reporter, who resides with her daughter and parents at 475 Obed Avenue. The book is dedicated to his daughter, Mary Anne, "because he would have wished it so."

Once a student at the University of Saskatchewan, where he was a member of the Huskies rugby team, Flt. Sgt. Tooth was a member of the famed Demon Squadron of the Coastal Command, and was killed while attacking a German convoy off the coast of the Friesen Islands in May, 1942, only three months after he had gone overseas.

Much of his poetry was written in England between flights.

"Not I nor mine shall ever live Thus ordered in the church," he wrote in his poem, "Requiescat in Pace," which was written in the graveyard by the Chapel, Fenny Stratford, where many of his ancestors are buried.

"Let those who fear, and have the moneyed things of life, Be pressured by the stones—I'll have none" he concludes in this poem which became a prophecy.

Okanagan Shipping Trainload Of Apples Every 15 Minutes

KELOWNA (CP)—Freight trains, jammed to the roof with boxes of B.C. apples, today are leaving this bustling Okanagan Valley fruit-growing centre every 15 minutes, bound for the fresh fruit markets of the prairies and the United States.

Growers, pickers, packers and shippers are working feverishly from dawn to far into the night to get British Columbia's estimated 7,000,000-box apple harvest rolling eastward. About 800 carloads leave here each day.

More than 600,000 boxes of McIntosh apples already have been sent to prairie distributors. By the week-end, McIntosh picking will be largely completed.

Well over half the Macs now have been delivered to packing houses and pickers will concentrate on the Jonathan and Delicious varieties.

Many growers, although admitting this year's crop will fall far short of last year's record harvest of 9,000,000 boxes, say the color and quality of apples this year are superior to anything they have known. A light frost last week was held responsible for the good color.

NEW SPRAY TESTED

Plagued by a shortage of pickers and fearful the apples might fall prematurely, many growers for the past few weeks have been experimenting with a hormone spray that may revolutionize the fruit industry.

A. T. Howe of Vernon, reputedly the owner of the largest McIntosh orchard in the British Empire, said the spray, which is scattered over the trees from a helicopter, "apparently is successful" in making apples hang on more tenaciously.

Pickers report it requires a stronger pull to pluck apples from trees that have been sprayed. Growers anticipate a substantial saving in labor costs with necessity for speedy picking eliminated.

Despite the loss of the United Kingdom apple market, growers feel little anxiety for the disposal of their crop. Shippers have more orders than cars. Although the bulk of the crop will go to the prairies, large sections of the United States and even Brazil will be munching B.C. apples this fall.

Weather

Weather today and tomorrow, valid until midnight Sept. 23.

The clear, warm weather of the past few days will continue today and Thursday. Above normal temperatures are expected to continue in the daytime with frost in the northern interior regions overnight.

Vancouver and vicinity lower Fraser Valley and Georgia Strait—Clear and warm today and Thursday. Fog patches in the low areas this morning and again tomorrow morning. Winds light.

West coast Vancouver Island—Clear and warm today and Thursday. Fog patches clearing by noon and reforming late evening. Fog clearing gradually Thursday morning. Winds light.

Soldier, 33, Retires On Pension; Started At 13 As Trumpeter

Sept. 30, according to a recent National Defence announcement, will bring an official end to eight long years of "active service" for members of Canada's navy, army and air force. It will also mean an end to 20 years of army life for Sgt.-Maj. George E. Fader, Melville Cove, N.S., for that is the day he starts a period of leave pending retirement from the Canadian army as probably the youngest pensioner ever to leave any of Canada's armed forces.

Sgt.-Maj. Fader is only 33 years of age and his career as a professional soldier dates back to 1927 when, as a youngster of 13, he enlisted in the Royal Canadian artillery as a boy trumpeter. At the present time he is employed in eastern command pay office where he holds the position of superintendent clerk.

He is not the first in his family to qualify for an army pension for long service. Two elder brothers recently retired from the army after more than 20 years service and a brother-in-law, Ralph Hawkins, retired at 40 after 24 years service.

Coldwell Asks Ban On Mines Gambling

NEW LISKEARD, Ont. (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said in an address Tuesday night called for an end to "speculation in mining stocks and evident manipulation of the market."

Referring to newspaper reports which stated Eldon Gold Mines had gone from 30 cents to $2.70 and back to $1 when 10,000,000 shares were traded within three weeks, he said this "clearly demonstrated the need for a comprehensive plan for the development of our mineral resources in line with the needs of the people."

"As long as mining stocks are allowed to fluctuate at the whim of the speculators, people will be discouraged from investing the large sums of money necessary."

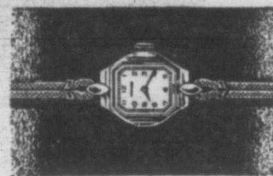

Mr. Coldwell also charged that the "Tory press" was expressing the hope that Ontario Liberals would make a comeback and keep the C.C.F. party out of office. The C.C.F. was the only alternative to the Drew government since there was "really no difference between Liberals and Tories," he said.

Army Reservists Must Be Physically Fit

Men applying for enlistment in the Canadian army, reserve force, need not be as young or as physically perfect as men joining the active army, but they must be pretty good physical specimens just the same.

A recently published army order states that men enlisting in the reserve force must be, in the opinion of the general officer commanding a command, capable of and suitable for the performance of the various tasks which reserve force soldiers may be required to perform.

In any case they must be sufficiently fit physically to perform camp duties or administrative tasks if medically unsuited for service in the field.

Battle Demonstration To Be Farewell To Maj.-Gen. Worthington

EDMONTON — Alberta active force units, the Lord Strathcona Horse Regiment and the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, will mark the retirement of Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, G.O.C. Western Command, and bid him farewell with "Exercise ADIOS," a battle demonstration being held in the area of Wainwright military camp, next Sunday, Sept. 28.

"ADIOS," Spanish for "farewell" or "goodbye," is used in the name of the training scheme as a tribute to Gen. Worthington's first days as a soldier during the Nicaraguan and Mexican revolutions.

The two Calgary units, in camp for 16 days of concentrated training, will give the full-scale battle demonstration just two days before the general turns over his command to Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, C.B.E. "ADIOS" will mark completion of "Worthington's 33 years' service in the Canadian army."

SUPPORT FOR INFANTRY

Sherman-type tanks, firing explosive and armor-piercing shells and spraying the ground with machine gun fire, will cross a prearranged run in support of infantry in the attack. Platoons of infantry from the P.P.C.L.I. armed with mortars, anti-tank guns, light machine guns and small arms will attack under the cover of tank fire. Aircraft, dropping practice bombs which emit realistic smoke on striking the target, are to support ground forces and will be controlled by ground-to-air communication.

LAST PRESS CONFERENCE

CALGARY (CP) — Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, C.B., M.C., M.M., made his formal farewell here Tuesday evening to the Canadian army for which he has lived for 33 years, and to the civilians who have faithfully supported that army. Due for retirement Sept. 30, the occasion was probably the stocky, colorful tank-general's last press conference as a commanding officer of Canada's greatest single military unit, the Western Command.

Of his future plans after leaving the service, the general had little to say. He will live in Vancouver and will continue to campaign, as he has throughout his career, for his two pet themes, integration of defence forces, and development of new weapons. "I don't think I'll remain inactive very long," he said.

Civic and provincial officials, members of service clubs as well as reserve force citizens' committees and other organizations have been invited to witness the Wainwright demonstration Sept. 28. The Sunday battle exercise will be open to the public. Providing necessary safety precautions, a special vantage point has been roped off for spectators of the battle run, which will commence at 2 p.m. and is expected to last an hour.

U.N. Will Seek $1,500,000,000 For Relief Of Europe's Children

LONDON (Reuter) — Building of a $1,500,000,000 ($1,500,000,000) fund to meet emergency relief of children, young people, expectant and nursing mothers, without discrimination of race, creed, nationality or political belief is being planned by the United Nations Appeal for Children, it was disclosed here Tuesday.

Michael Lubbock, European regional director of U.N.A.C., who has just returned here after an extensive tour of nine European countries, declared the United Nations wants to make the initials of U.N.A.C. as famous as Unrra.

"The first appeal will be launched in the spring next year for a voluntary contribution of one day's pay or some alternative form of collection better adapted to each particular country," he said.

The suggested figure of $187,500,000 would not meet all the needs of children in the world today, according to United Nations experts, Lubbock said. Double that was needed.

It was suggested that if every one throughout the world gave one day's earnings, $375,000,000 could be raised each year.

Campaigns are to be inaugurated in each country by national committees. It is expected to set up committees in many countries in October, 1947.

Four categories will qualify for assistance from the fund:

1. The International Children's Emergency Fund (which is already shipping fats, powdered milk and tinned foods to 11 countries).

2. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization to provide basic educational supplies for elementary schools in devastated countries.

3. Private agencies working for children in the devastated countries.

4. Agencies working for children in need in those countries themselves.

No Insurance Brings Protest From Strikers

VANCOUVER (CP) — Claims that the Dominion government is trying to "break strikes" by denying unemployment insurance to workers who respect union picket lines, resulted Tuesday night in a motion by the Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.L.), protesting alleged withholding of unemployment insurance benefits.

Helicopter Used

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — Pacific northwest aviation history was made here Tuesday when a hovering helicopter dropped a painter's hook onto the rim of a 140-foot chimney at the Esondale Mental Hospital. It was the only way a painter's sling chair could be rigged for the workers.

Langford Institute Sending Clothing To United Kingdom

LANGFORD — Miss L. M. A. Savory, president of the Langford Women's Institute, thanked the helpers who assisted at the recent flower show at the monthly meeting held in Dunford Road Hall.

The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. F. S. Staverman, reported that insurance had been paid on the hall. The members will sell tickets on the Southern Vancouver Island Institute quilt for food parcels for Britain.

Notice was given of the annual South Vancouver District Conference in November.

Mrs. P. N. Welch, flower show convener, gave a report of the show and finances connected with it and a letter from R. Bayles, thanking the institute for their valuable assistance at the community fair, was read.

Mrs. H. A. Hincks appealed for warm clothing in good condition to be sent to England.

Arrangements were made for a social tea on Wednesday, Oct. 22, when "Gifts for Britain" of groceries and clothing will be given by the institute and other local organizations.

To Take Action On Nanaimo Appeal

NANAIMO — F. S. Cunliffe, Crown prosecutor at the trial of the striking laundry workers of the Imperial Laundry here, heard nothing from R. S. McMasters, defence counsel, he says, with regard to a notice of appeal against the decision of the court which fined workers $1 each for striking without first asking for conciliation.

He said he had written to the defence counsel asking him to furnish the prosecution immediately with a draft of his stated case, but so far this had not been done.

If a draft of the appeal was not submitted to the prosecution soon, Mr. Cunliffe said he would move to bring the matter before Magistrate Lionel Bevor-Potts on Oct. 1. He maintained that further action in the appeal was long past due, and he intended to bring the matter to a head.

Many Donate Blood At Chemainus

CHEMAINUS — A total of 708 residents, the majority of them being employees of the Victoria Lumber Co. Ltd. here, donated their blood to a St. John's ambulance clinic. The classification of blood groups has been completed.

R. A. D. Harwood, provincial superintendent of the St. John Ambulance Association, assisted by Mrs. Florence Carroll, lady district officer, and Mrs. Donald Monday of North Vancouver were in charge of the clinic. The clinic is expected to return here next year.

Alberni Art Group To Hold Meeting

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Twelve of 15 youths who escaped from the Missouri state training school for boys, where several mass breaks have occurred in recent months, were rounded up Monday. The boys, ranging in age from 14 to 16, fled Sunday night.

Farmers' Organization Demands Early End Of Packing Tieup

KELOWNA (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Agriculture, which represents three-fifths of the farmers in Canada, today had the full weight of its powerful organization behind an early settlement in the packing-house strike.

The federation, whose directors are meeting in this Okanagan Valley centre in special convention, issued a statement Tuesday night calling on the packinghouse unions to send their men back to work immediately.

At the same time the federation urged the provincial and federal governments to join "in the most aggressive action to bring all parties to the dispute" to agreement by arbitration.

But while arbitration is pending, the federation also suggested to the federal government that a number of emergency measures should be instituted.

EXPORTS TO U.S.

One of these was the establishment of a Dominion export control board to facilitate and supervise the movement of livestock to the United States.

Livestock for export to the U.S., the federation suggested, should be accepted by the board at public market prices levels in effect at the week-end prior to the cessation of slaughtering at the Canada Packers, Burns and Swift plants.

The federation also urged the federal government as an emergency measure to remove temporarily "any restrictions to the slaughter and sale of livestock in any community."

In addition cities, towns and villages were asked to remove whatever health restrictions they have down to the minimum which health considerations demand.

The farmers' body, "reluctant to pass an opinion upon the merits of any labor dispute" was gravely concerned with impact on agriculture of the packinghouse strike.

LOSSES PILE UP

The federation said farmers in all provinces had incurred severe losses and the continuation of the strike would "daily result in cumulative losses to livestock and poultry producers which would deal the industry a crippling blow."

The directors are expected to pass a resolution urging the federal government to continue ceiling prices on seed grains, as convention delegates contend removal of the ceiling would precipitate an acute food shortage.

PRODUCTION THE ANSWER

ONCE AGAIN AN IMPORTANT SEGMENT of this Dominion's population was reminded of the essential requirement for a higher standard of living and a reduction in the cost of both necessities and desirable consumer commodities as Hon. Humphrey Mitchell addressed the 62nd annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in Hamilton today. The solution to the problem of mounting living costs, the Minister of Labor declared, was higher production—an objective in which management and labor must co-operate if the unhealthy spiral threatening this nation's economy is to be halted.

Mr. Mitchell's words were of direct import to the gathering assembled in the Ontario industrial centre specifically in view of the fact that more than 30 resolutions had been submitted for discussion on cost of living issues. It is to be expected that succeeding deliberations will be marked by an understanding on the part of labor of the responsibilities it shares in creating a more stable condition. The question is one which cannot be approached from the point of immediate self-interest. Nor will the intelligent delegates who represent the different unions under Trades and Labor Congress jurisdiction be blind to that fact.

It should be apparent to all that mere demands for higher wages, successful though they might be, will not solve the problem. As additions are made to the costs of production, so is the sales price of the finished article or service increased. The consumer pays; and the consumer includes the workman who has received the surface benefit of an increased wage rate. In the words of the minister:

"The remedy is in our own hands—not by way of subsidies which we all pay anyway—but by the greater output of goods. It means there must be higher production objectives by management and unit production by workers. With more of the goods we need available, prices will find their proper level."

None ignores the desirability of a high wage structure which broadens the purchasing power of the people generally. But none will forget the situation created when one stratum of the public enjoys the fruits of higher pay while another, specifically pensioners and those of modest fixed income, lack the ability to increase their returns. Nor will the delegates at Hamilton lose sight of the fact that the long term prosperity of Canada is an immediate and personal concern to them. Disruptive forces to the contrary notwithstanding, the working man in this country appreciates his stake in its stability. He is not blind to the thesis which the Minister of Labor has re-enunciated.

FATEFUL DECISION

ECONOMIC EXPERTS AND DIPLOMATIC representatives of the United States will be reporting next week to State Secretary Marshall to give him the benefit of their first-hand observation of the European situation. What they have to tell him is not expected to be optimistic. The 16-nation conference just concluded at Paris has called for more than $20-billion in American aid to help the supporters of the "Marshall Plan" to get back on their economic feet. But of more immediate concern is the emergency which will exist between now and the date—sometime in 1948—when the Plan can be authorized and put into operation. Italy's ability to buy imports and finance exports is dwindling with alarming rapidity. France has announced she must have greater wheat shipments for the remainder of this year. Belgium says "the food situation is gloomy everywhere." Britain, tightening belts for the winter crisis, is far from sure of success.

In the face of this situation, Gen. Marshall's advisors have told him that there appears to be no existing source of funds from which interim help may be extended. The World Bank and the Monetary Stabilization Fund have been used in part, but their scope is limited to certain specific purposes. The only alternative—an immediate special session of Congress to authorize emergency aid—appears inevitable. It is a problem to which President Truman must now find an answer.

IS THIS LEADERSHIP?

FAR BE IT FROM US TO SUGGEST that the attitude of Esquimalt's council, announced by Reeve A. I. Thomas, rejecting the plan for a referendum on the creation of a Greater Victoria civic entity is an insult to the intelligence of the good voters of the municipality. But what, we ask, is "too deep" for them in a request for an expression of opinion at the polls on that subject next December? Of course the issue requires study before an informed view can be expressed on the ballot paper. But should not a voter familiarize himself with any question before he supports it or rejects it?

We believe that the term "municipal leaders," applied generally to the elected representatives, should be more than a figure of speech. It should imply a willingness on the part of reeves and councillors to give leadership. Are the men in office at Esquimalt providing leadership when they shelve the vital question of amalgamation, and infer they will take definite action on it only when study groups, letter writers and private individuals force their hands?

THEIR MERIT PROVED

IN THE COURSE OF TODAY'S SESSIONS of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at the Empress Hotel winners of awards for particular merit in the different categories of this specific field of publications were scheduled to be announced. Last year we were afforded the opportunity to congratulate British Columbians on their achievement in securing the lion's share of these honors. The results of the 1947 judging were not known as this was written. Even a cursory knowledge of the standards that have been maintained over recent years, however, guaranteed a high degree of merit for those selected.

In this day, when the freedom of the press is emphasized on this continent in contrast to its regimentation in a less favored section of the world, it is fitting to pay tribute to the publishers of weeklies and the staffs who render them such valiant service in the collection and dissemination of local and international information. Theirs is a heavy responsibility honestly discharged. No newspaper, of course, claims for itself perfection. Yet throughout this Dominion, and in other lands where the right of a reporter to collect facts and the right of an editor to voice opinions is respected, the working journalist and his publisher recognize their duties to the public and take pains to see that they are fulfilled.

In the smaller centres which must, through circumstances, restrict their editions to one, two, or three a week, that obligation is no less honored. In many, the newspaper office is the hub of community life. Beyond recording the events of the district, and regions far beyond its circulation territory, it can provide leadership in thought, development and general betterment.

It is a happy circumstance that brings this convention to Victoria during the course of Newspaper Week, an occasion which will also stimulate public interest in the analogous meetings of representatives of daily papers in Vancouver within the next few days.

NO EASY THING

IT IS ONE OF THE HANDICAPS OF democracy, when compared with some other political systems, that it is a more difficult mechanism to operate; it requires greater group co-operation, and it demands a much higher personal standard of citizenship from each of its members. Totalitarianism—whether it be managed by a single dictator under the title of Fascism, or by a group which represents a militant minority within the state, under the name of Communism—requires nothing from its subjects but obedience. Obedience is the lowest form of political behaviour—the discipline for those who, like children, are not yet ready to think for themselves, or for those adults who, lacking training and the courage of personal enterprise, will never be able to attain that height of individual achievement. But high qualities of mind and character are the necessary adjuncts of a democracy.

The basic requirement of the democratic state is education. Under a form of government by representatives elected by popular franchise the voter must be able to understand spoken and written argument and choose that course of action which seems to him the best for the common good. And this presupposes a high moral standard, so that what is good may be recognized. It calls as well for a developed sense of group consciousness and responsibility, in order that pursuit of personal or sectional ambitions, however laudable in themselves, may not be permitted to stifle action in the interests of the social group as a whole. Needed, too, is that tolerance which will see questions in their wider significance, so that the minority, when out-voted, may side whole-heartedly with the major part of society in the approved course of action. The exercise of such mental and moral attainments as these far transcends the dull practice of obedience, which learns nothing from the past and promises nothing for the future.

Offer a man democracy and you offer him the burden of responsibility, the onus of forming moral judgments, the lifelong obligation of influencing each day the lives of himself and his fellows, the heavy task of unceasing political vigilance. The man of weakness or dull spirit, the slovenly or servile man, will refuse the offer. But he who embodies the highest qualities of homo sapiens, who has pride in himself and his fellows as the vehicles of nature's greatest experiment, who carries in himself the spark of individual life and social enterprise—he will accept the offer and its inherent challenge. On him must rest the progress of the world and the responsibility of providing an example for the unfree portion of mankind.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

HOW FREEDOM CAN DIE

BY WHAT STRANGE PROCESS can the Communist party come to power in an ancient and proud western European nation, with a vigorous, hard-working, and strongly Catholic people? This is an important question, both in Italy and in the United States. It is especially important now, because of the strong current evidence that the Kremlin has altered its directive to the western European Communist parties—that in Italy for example, Palmiro Togliatti is instructed to take power as soon as possible.

First it is necessary to grasp what such a directive is like. The day-to-day transmission of orders between the Kremlin and the Communist parties outside Russia is a myth. If there were such wonderful free communication, even the Kremlin would hardly choose to humiliate a subordinate as Togliatti was recently humiliated, when he was permitted to publish an impassioned argument against the Kremlin's ratifying the Italian peace treaty several hours after ratification had actually occurred at Moscow.

RATHER, the best authorities believe that the directives consist of broad general orders, defining missions in their order of importance and broadly indicating strategy, similar to the basic directive that was given each American theatre commander in war time.

Within this rather wide frame, Togliatti, Thorez and their colleagues of the Italian and French party executives are reasonably free to act, subject only to absolute obedience to any further indications of opinion from Moscow.

The best guess (and it is of course a complete shot in the dark) is that Togliatti's present directive can be paraphrased in ordinary language approximately as follows: "Take power quickly if possible. Use the party influence with the labor unions to promote the maximum of political and economic disorganization. But on no account risk a civil war or the suppression of the party."

THAT IMPORTANT final qualification requires Signor Togliatti and his fellows of the high command to move delicately as well as swiftly. To be sure, the Communists possess a powerful para-military force in Italy. The best of the Communist's wartime partisan units, numbering an estimated 200,000 men, have been almost certainly kept in a state of secret training and readiness. Wartime leaders—international brigade veterans like Pietro Secchia and the notorious Colonel Moscatelli—are reported still ready to function. And besides this core of fully ready outfits, there are said to be about 130,000 additional Communists who have retained or secured partisan arms.

Yet these Communist forces are regarded as defensive for the present and, for the future, as the cadres of a new secret police. Togliatti wants no civil war which would invite external intervention. It is generally agreed that a Communist bid for full power will not be made except in conditions of such disorganization and misery that all opposition is effectively paralyzed.

PRECISELY for this reason, Signor Togliatti must nightly thank God to whom he is surprisingly polite, for the state of nervous, hand-wringing indecision apparently prevailing in Washington. If America gives Italy wheat, coal and the dollars to pay for them, Togliatti has not got even a good fighting chance. The triumph of Signor Togliatti can be almost mathematically foretold, if America remains paralyzed in the present emergency.

THE FIRST RESULT, of course, will be the fall of the de Gasperi government, as a direct result of its inability to give the people bread and work. This will occur relatively shortly. There will follow a general scramble from which almost every one predicts the emergence of what is called "government of national crisis." The phrase is certainly an odd one. First of all, the government of national crisis will contain representatives of all parties, especially including the Left Socialists and Communists. Its diversity alone will condemn it to impotence. And just to insure that impotence is really total, it is further predicted that this government of national crisis will be headed by the kind of antiquated, vaguely dilapidated but available elder statesman who would guarantee feebleness in any case. The Communist candidate for the job, it is already known, is the aged former Premier Nitti, and Nitti also seems to be considered the most likely choice of Socialist and Christian Democrats.

IN SUCH A GOVERNMENT of concourse, the Communists will take politically vital posts like the Ministry of the Interior which carry no responsibility for economic policy. For the purpose of such a government will be to provide a ripening period of decay—of increasing hunger, unemployment and chaos: When the ripening period is over, in the spring, will come the national election. And then, if all this is permitted to happen, the Communists can take power, only masking their absolutism with a few Socialists and other stooges carefully trained to imitate Hungarian models.

The Class In Problem Children Gets Promoted

Co-operation Translates Plan To Achievement

Norway Digest

SHORTLY after Norway's liberation and before parliamentary elections were held in October of 1945, leaders of Norway's six political parties agreed to a common program for reconstruction. This joint program, which has formed the basis for reconstruction policy since the 1945 elections, was recently reviewed in a government report to parliament documenting progress to date. The "progress report" was submitted with the unanimous approval of all members of the six-party committee and reveals that with few exceptions, constructive action has been taken on every point. What was once a plan is now in large measure a reality.

Regarding food and supplies, the figures speak for themselves. The milk ration—200 grams daily in May, 1945, is now up to 250 grams; the fats have increased from 30 to 50 grams per day; 40 grams of coffee substitute per week have now been increased to 75 grams of pure coffee. Rationing of potatoes, vegetables, fruit, canned meat and fish has been discontinued entirely. Tobacco, too, is on the free list. Textile and leather industries which were producing at no more than 40-45 per cent of 1938 capacity in May, 1945, had in many instances surpassed 1938 levels by late 1946.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The section of the program calling for increased social security for dependents of war casualties, Norwegians who died in prisons, and those disabled as a result of the war, has been met through new legislation. Concerning settlement with collaborators, terms of the agreement have again been met with approximately 37,000 of an estimated 50,000 cases already processed by the courts.

The program clause stipulating that "unemployment must not be tolerated" has been met to the letter. Individuals employed and covered by unemployment insurance totalled 440,000 in May, 1945. This figure had increased to 545,000 by May, 1947 (excluding domestics, fishermen, and whalers and incomplete for farmers and loggers). Though many industries are in fact experiencing a labor shortage, the government is preparing an "activation" budget to combat unemployment at home in event of an economic recession abroad. As further stipulated by the joint blue-print, a broad industrial training program has been instituted. Over 8,200,000 kr. have already been spent for this purpose.

INDUSTRIAL RECONSTRUCTION

In a special section devoted to industrial reconstruction and waterpower development, the program called for the building of new shipyards, a domestic steel mill, and a broad electrification program. The recent report discloses that thanks to government aid, domestic shipbuilding is being increased from 90,000 to 200,000 Br. tons per year. The new steel works is already under construction at Mo i Rana. Since liberation, 31,000,000 kr. in government funds have gone into construction of power plants in hitherto powerless areas. Since liberation, electricity has been brought to over 40,000 new consumers, and it is estimated that a similar number will benefit during the coming year. The nation's generating capacity will be increased by 40,000 kw. this year, and 340,000 kw. during 1948.

As to social welfare, the Children's Allowance proposal is now law, and a broadened health insurance program will soon be placed before parliament as will laws concerning tuberculosis vaccination and treatment, care and treatment of the feeble-minded, and a national dental insurance program.

NOT BREAD ALONE

Cultural projects proposed in the joint party program have not been neglected. A committee is now considering the question of church reforms, while another committee is reviewing the proposal to set up a Department of Education as distinct from the present Department of Church and Education. Government aid to amateur sports increased from 400,000 to 1,000,000 kroner during the period and grants to scientific and cultural institutions have risen from 10,500,000 kr. to 23,900,000 kr. A sum of 28,700,000 kr. has been appropriated for scientific and cultural purposes in 1947-48. A new university has been established in Bergen and the Institute of Technology at Trondheim is being expanded.

Merchant fleet reconstruction has proceeded in accordance with the general proposals set forth in the program. Totalling 4,800,000 Br. tons in 1940, war losses had reduced the Norwegian merchant fleet to 2,700,000 Br. tons by war's end. By July 1, 1947, tonnage figures had risen to 3,700,000 Br. tons with an additional 1,900,000 tons contracted for. Authorization to purchase $25,000,000 worth of American vessels has been granted Norwegian owners, with additional purchases of up to $33,750,000 kr. to be guaranteed by the state. The whaling fleet, whose 13 floating factories had been reduced to five by 1945, will soon set sail for the whaling fields with a total of 10 factory ships, plus auxiliary craft.

British Investing In Higher Coal Output

U.K. Information Office

BRITAIN is buying $36,000,000 of coal-face machinery as part of an intensive mechanization program for her coal mines.

This is one of the main points in the National Coal Board's plan for a large-scale reorganization of the mining industry which has just been announced. It has special interest at this particular moment in view of the assurance given to industry by the president of the Board of Trade, that it will be guaranteed 24,500,000 tons of coal during the winter months.

The coal board is starting almost immediately 20 major schemes for sinking new pits or reconstructing existing mines. Each of these projects will cost $12,000,000. In addition there is a long-term program comprising 80 further schemes of a similar nature. Seventy projects for drift mines in shallow seams are estimated to provide an additional annual output by the end of the year of between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 tons.

National, divisional and area planning staffs will ensure direction and co-ordination of the scheme in the different areas. In addition a chief scientist has been appointed in each division with the necessary staff and laboratories required to provide a comprehensive scientific service down to pit level. There will also be general, chemical, medical and physical directorates of research. Machinery has thus been set up for the adequate scientific study of all the industry's problems.

What is in fact a big plan for the development of Britain's coal mines covers the next nine years. The board anticipates that at least one major piece of reconstruction in each of the country's 49 mining areas will be undertaken. Following the 20 projects being started during the first

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

THE BATTLE in the United Nations between the democracies and the Russian bloc has developed a new angle through the declaration by a high Soviet source that the Soviet Union undoubtedly will boycott the "Little Assembly" proposed by State Secretary Marshall if it is established.

The "Little Assembly" would be a general committee on which all members of the U.N. would be entitled to representation and it would sit permanently to consider vital matters such as those which now are being side-tracked in the powerful Security Council by Russian veto. The Moscowites hold that such a committee would contravene the U.N. charter.

This Soviet threat may be bluff, but if it is accepted it at face value, for the sake of argument, the question immediately arises whether such a boycott would jeopardize the whole U.N. Some observers fear that it might, since it would tend toward a peace organization from which the Soviet bloc would stand aloof.

RENDERED IMPOTENT

The answer to this, unfortunately, is that statesmen generally recognize that the U.N. already has been rendered impotent by Soviet tactics of obstruction. So the Little Assembly would create no threats to a unity which doesn't exist. The U.N. already is divided along the same lines as the world at large—the Soviet bloc on the one hand and the rest of the globe on the other.

The ideal solution of these divisions, of course, would be that advocated yesterday by Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the U.N. He made an impassioned appeal to the warring east-west powers to reconcile their differences which he declared were breeding fear and hate throughout the world.

"The indispensable condition for peace," Lie told the Assembly, "is that nations with different social systems and different interests shall strive and work together, side by side, in peace. This must find expression in political negotiations which show willingness to compromise. Without such a will . . . no mechanism for the maintenance of international peace and security, however perfect, can be effective."

That obviously is a true bill. However, until the happy day of compromise arrives there would seem to be merit in the effort of the democracies to drag the present helpless U.N. organization out of the doldrums so that it will be partly effective.

COULD STILL PERFORM

As a matter of fact a reconstructed U.N. could be highly effective, since the majority of the world's nations want to make it work. The absence of Russia and her satellites would be a shocking thing, and it is to be avoided by all reasonable means, but there are many who believe that it wouldn't render the reconstructed organization useless by a long shot. It still could perform a great service for most of the globe.

There are those who would controvert this view by pointing to the late League of Nations and saying that it died because the United States declined to join. But that's not true. The League failed, not because of America's absence but because its major members were playing power politics.

The United Nations Organization was conceived in the one-world spirit fostered by Allied unity in war. Since then the globe itself has been divided into two camps—the Soviet bloc versus all-comers.

This being so it strikes us that it isn't strange to get a continuation of the split in the U.N. This situation can scarcely be remedied in the peace organization until the global breach is mended. Meantime the democracies are trying through creation of the Little Assembly to give the U.N. a pair of crutches.

5,000 Asked To Pay Bills To Help Jubilee Hospital

A plea to the 5,000 former patients of Royal Jubilee Hospital who owe bills for services received, to pay as much as possible within the next two weeks, so that the hospital may keep in operation, has been sent out by J. L. Hobbs, chairman of the board of directors.

At present, for the eight months of 1947, Jubilee has $59,100 in outstanding accounts, in addition to thousands of dollars owing from previous years. Charles Morrison, hospital administrator reported.

During the eight-month period patients received $561,850 worth of service. Of this, $90,450 was service to indigents, Mr. Morrison stated, and other patients have paid $412,300 of their obligation.

"This would not be so serious in an ordinary business with annual sales of more than $1,000,000, adequate working capital, and ability to borrow funds when necessary," he continued. However, he pointed out, by its act of incorporation in 1894 the Jubilee is forbidden to borrow in this manner, and neither has it been able to accumulate reserves upon which to draw.

TO RELIEVE FINANCES

In the letter sent to each of the 5,000 patients with outstanding accounts Mr. Hobbs said that if each one would make a payment on his bill within two weeks they would relieve a crippling load on the hospital's finances. "That load right now is threatening our ability to continue essential services to the sick of our community," he warned.

This delay in getting bills paid has meant that the hospital is running short of the ready cash needed to pay its own bills and the wages of nurses and other employees each month, he said.

Editor Compares Free, Muzzled Press

War is being waged in every corner of the earth between ignorance and knowledge, Sandham Graves, editor of the Daily Colonist, told a Tuesday meeting of the Victoria Kiwanis Club. One of the most important weapons being used in this war is the press, he said.

Mr. Graves noted there were two distinct types of newspapers. "In this country we believe in a free and responsible press that presents all sides of an issue. Its aim is to print true facts. There are, however, at least seven nations where the press is controlled and muzzled," the speaker said.

A controlled press controls the mind of its reader, he pointed out. A free press merely presents facts on which its reader can base an opinion of his own. "A free mind is the greatest of our God-given qualities. With this freedom a man can think what he likes, say what he likes and do what he likes so long as he does not trespass on the freedom of another," Mr. Graves said. "A free press is freedom of man himself."

The speaker said there is a great need for a free and responsible press for the whole world. It was noted that the International Conference of Freedom of Information, a sub-committee of the United Nations, is now at work to establish such a press. Mr. Graves said many Canadians are at work with the committee doing preliminary work on the project. Such a world press, he said, would bring about a better understanding between peoples of all nations.

In a brief historical sketch on the development of the present day newspaper, Mr. Graves traced the first phase of the business to Chinese character paintings of 6,000 years ago. He told of Johann Gutenberg's accidental discovery of the art of printing and went on to tell of the first printed pamphlets.

Dealing with present day newspaper systems, Mr. Graves paid tribute to the Canadian press. "Canada has a right to be proud of her press," he said. "I do not know of any other land that has made a better job of collecting and distributing the news with the objective viewpoint that we have here."

Year-Round Tourist Trade Aim Of B.C.

Trade and Industry Minister L. H. Eyres, leaving for Ottawa to attend the annual Dominion-Provincial Tourist Conference, said Monday British Columbia's aim was to make the province a mecca for tourists not only for the summer months but for every month of the year.

"With our climate and scenery, our geographical position, good accommodation, good food and plenty of recreational facilities the flow of tourists will be toward British Columbia," he said. At the conference questions concerning advertising, co-operation among provinces, transportation, customs and immigration regulations, civil aviation, accommodation and other problems, will be discussed.

Yarrows Launch French Tender

Mlle. Jacqueline de Hauteclouque christens the French lighthouse tender Finistere at the Yarrows Ltd. launching ceremony Tuesday afternoon.

Yarrows Ltd. was the scene of a colorful ceremony at 4.30 Tuesday afternoon when the Finistere, first of four lighthouse tenders to be built here, was launched before the ambassador of the country for whom she was built.

The 177-foot Finistere was christened by Mlle. Jacqueline de Hauteclouque, daughter of the French Ambassador to Canada, Count Jean de Hauteclouque. Prayers were read at the launching by Father J. L. Blanchfield.

The new ship is the first of four being built by Yarrows for the French government on a $2,750,000 contract. She is the first of her kind to be built on the Pacific coast. The second of the four is scheduled to be launched in another month and work will go ahead immediately on the others.

Witnesses of the ceremony included a number of prominent Victorians, officials of the Royal Canadian Navy here and officials of the French Supply Council in Canada.

The guests included: Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., Commanding Officer, Pacific Coast; Mayor Percy George and Mrs. George; Acting Premier Herbert Anscomb, Harold B. Elworthy, president of Island Tug and Barge Ltd.; Cecil Ridout, manager of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents; R. H. B. Ker and A. I. Thomas, reeve of Esquimalt.

Among Yarrows officials were H. A. Wallace, president of the shipyard, and E. W. Izard, general manager.

450 Publishers Going To Sea On Cruiser

Four hundred and fifty publishers of Canadian weekly newspapers are going to sea.

Here for the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association for three days this week, the publishers will learn about life on the ocean wave Friday afternoon when they go for a few hours' cruise on H.M.C.S. Ontario.

British Also Short Of Writing Paper, Says Visitor Here

Although people usually associate shortages in Britain with food and clothing, there is another one which hits the letter-writing, letter-loving Britons, the stationery shortage.

According to Herbert W. Holt, general secretary of the Stationers' Association of Great Britain, who has been visiting Victoria, British consumers are "starved" for stationery, with 60 per cent of the stationery manufacturers' output allocated for export. The major part of all pen and pencil production is also marked for export. Pencils for the home market are on a utility basis and are polished only for trade export.

Mr. Holt, in an interview at the Empress Hotel, said he was visiting North America in the hope of establishing a standardized stationery throughout the world. This would stop the present situation which makes quarto-size envelopes and letter-heads in one country, standard size in another and so on through the numerous size classifications.

Stationers' associations here will be shortly requested by similar groups in Great Britain and Switzerland to participate in the formation of an international stationers' association, Mr. Holt said.

The proposed new group would exchange ideas and gather valuable statistical information, he said. No question of a cartel is involved, as manufacturers can fix whatever prices they desire. The British association believes manufacturers should fix prices on a competitive basis and should be able to maintain the prices set, he said.

SEE THE CHANGE IN YOUR TEETH AS
PEPSODENT TOOTH POWDER GIVES YOU
DENTAL WHITENESS

IT'S TRUE! PEPSODENT WILL GIVE YOUR TEETH THE DENTAL CLEANLINESS
THAT MEANS DENTAL WHITENESS

After a dentist cleans your teeth it's amazing how white they are! That's real dental whiteness: and he relies on powder. For unless dull, dingy film is removed, it hardens—darkens—turns into harmful, ugly tartar. But Pepsodent Tooth Powder is especially made to remove that trouble-causing film—gently, but thoroughly—right in your own home. Change today to Pepsodent Tooth Powder and give your teeth dental whiteness.

FOR A CLEANER, FRESHER MOUTH...
FOR WHITER, BRIGHTER TEETH...
USE PEPSODENT TWICE A DAY.

The difference is IRIDIUM—and

Winnipeg Wedding For Wallace-Earle

Of interest in the city was the wedding Sept. 16 in St. George's Church, Winnipeg, when marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Mary Lou Bell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winslow Bell, and Frank Wallace Earle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Earle of Victoria.

Rev. F. R. Garrell solemnized the early afternoon ceremony.

For the occasion the bride was gowned in antique ivory tulle fashioned with low square neckline, outlined in a deep collar of guipure lace, long sleeves appliqued in lace and full skirt marked with lace applique. A coronet of guipure lace medallions held her antique ivory veil which misted over the full court train of her gown. White orchids, Johanna Hill roses and stephanotis were arranged in her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Fred M. Bell was matron of honor for her sister-in-law, John Earle, brother of the groom, of Victoria, was best man. Ushering were John Bell, brother of the bride, and John Campbell, Victoria. A. W. Lee played traditional wedding music.

A reception was held in the Gold Room of the Royal Alexandra Hotel, following which the couple left by plane for Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Earle will make their home in Victoria.

French Ambassador And Daughters Attend Investiture

Mlle. Ghislaine de Hauteclouque, with her sister, Mlle. Jacqueline, left, and father, Count Jean de Hauteclouque, French Ambassador to Canada, are received by Rear-Admiral E. Rollo Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., Commanding Officer Pacific Coast, aboard H.M.C.S. Ontario following the investiture Tuesday.

Kelowna Home For Newlyweds

En route to Kelowna where they will make their future home are Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bernard Lyseng, who were married Sept. 19 at St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay.

The bride, the former Miss Gladys Agatha Heinekey, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Heinekey, 1403 Stanley Avenue. The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lyseng, Wetaskiwin, Alta.

Rev. F. A. Springborn read the nuptial service midst a setting of chrysanthemums, zinnias and asters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose smart black accessories to accent her tailored suit of aqua blue. Her corsage bouquet of gardenias and rosebuds completed her ensemble.

A corsage bouquet of rosebuds was worn by Miss Peggy Muir, bridal attendant, in pleasing contrast with her suit of grey, and black accessories. Leo Katchuk attended as groomsman.

Miss Robin Ray sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

A reception followed the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents, where H. W. Dodd proposed the bridal toast.

White tapers in silver candelabra decorated the table, where the three-tier wedding cake was centred.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. E. Lyseng, Wetaskiwin; Mrs. Earl D. Stanley, Seattle, and Mr. G. M. Heinekey, Salt Spring Island.

Film Shown—A sound film dealing with various branches of Community Chest Work, was shown by David G. Decker, secretary of the welfare council, following the supper hour at a meeting of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club held with Miss Minnie Beveridge, club president, in the chair. An informal discussion followed.

Soroptimist, Venture Clubs Install Officers

The annual installation banquet of the Victoria Soroptimist Club and the Venture Club of Victoria was held jointly in the Empress Hotel Sept. 19. The occasion opened with Miss Dora M. Atkins, liaison officer, leading the invocation.

Miss Marjorie Laidlaw, president, Venture Club, introduced the guests of the evening. A toast to the King was offered by Mrs. Alice Kimmitt, president, Soroptimist Club. At the conclusion of dinner each member introduced herself giving her name and classification.

Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Henrietta Anderson, who spoke on some of life's experiences. Miss Margaret Brien moved the vote of thanks to Dr. Anderson. Miss Clarice Gray presented several piano selections during the evening. Mrs. Florence Broughton, regional director, western Canada region, Soroptimist Clubs, conducted the joint installation assisted by Soroptimists, Miss D. M. Atkins and Miss Neil Jones.

Officers installed were: Presidents, Mrs. Alice Kimmitt, Soroptimist; Miss Marjorie Laidlaw, Venture; first vice-presidents, Miss Ella Walker, Soroptimist; Miss Eleanor Brooke, Venture; second vice-presidents, Miss Lilias Milne, Soroptimist; Miss Margaret Brien, Venture; corresponding secretary, Miss Dorothy Tate, Soroptimist; recording secretary, Miss Olive Heritage, Soroptimist; Miss Gertrude Campbell, Venture; treasurers, Miss Marion Storey, Soroptimist; Miss Jean LaFortune, Venture.

Directors of Soroptimist Club installed were Mrs. A. M. Robertson, one year; Mrs. Sarah Clarke, two years, and Mrs. Ruth Green, three years.

Crusading Woman Editor Wins Award

They call Mrs. Katharine Marston the crusading editor from Elora, Ontario.

Noted for the writing of editorials in which she pulls no punches, Mrs. Marston was this afternoon awarded first prize in the contest for the best editorials from Canadian newspaper weeklies of circulation under 1,000.

Announcement was made at the afternoon session of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association Convention in the Empress Hotel. The convention opened today and will conclude Friday. Mrs. Marston was one of 15 women representatives of papers in the some 450 contingent.

Mrs. Marston took over the Elora Express which has been established since 1852, in 1941, following the sudden death of her husband, on their Ontario turkey farm.

"I knew nothing of newspaper work when I bought the paper but I certainly love it," she said today during the registration of delegates. "Of course, I prefer writing editorials and doing political writing whenever I get the chance."

"Since I own the paper I can say what I like."

In between times she takes care of her four children the youngest of which will start school next year. "At 9 in the morning to 6 in the evening and practically every night working routine" can become wearing Mrs. Marston admits, but says she intends to keep right on.

For several months she felt Elora needed a waterworks system. She campaigned for it through her paper and a month ago the by-law went through and Elora, a town of 1,280 population, will get its waterworks system.

Her male colleagues editing papers in the vicinity of Elora are 100 per cent for the woman editor in their midst and are the first to say how quickly she gets things done in her town with her crusading editorials in the Express.

"It's fun. I have to cover everything and attend to the advertising besides write the editorials," Mrs. Marston said. "However, you feel you are in everything and know what is going on."

Weekly newspapers have a bright future, she said, adding that a number of young people have purchased them in her vicinity and are doing well.

Girl Minister To Do
Indian Mission Work

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Slim, dark-haired and 24, Muriel Spurgeon is busy preparing for missionary work in India following her ordination as the only woman Baptist minister in Canada.

The simple ordination ceremony culminated seven years' study at McMaster University where she obtained a Bachelor of Divinity Degree—the first of her sex to do so in the University's history.

Miss Spurgeon, who leaves Oct. 18 for Indian mission field, fell naturally into her profession. Her father was born in India and worked there for years.

Two summers ago she spent five months as a student pastor in Belle Ewart, Ont., and was recalled to conduct three funerals after she returned to college.

Special instruction at Calcutta in Hindustani and eastern culture will be part of her preparation for missionary work.

Chamber Directors To Discuss Increase Of Freight Rates

A special meeting of directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow at 3.30, George I. Warren, managing secretary, announced today.

Most important to be brought forward at the meeting will be the 30 per cent increase in coastal shipping freight rates which became effective Monday.

P. Fleming, chairman of a chamber committee which is now investigating the increase and which has taken the matter up with George E. Stephen, vice-president of the C.P.R., will report to the directors on the committee's findings.

Members of the committee with Mr. Fleming are R. L. Challoner, R. B. Wilson, J. V. Johnson, W. T. Strath, M.L.A.; George I. Warren and James E. Isaac, assistant secretary.

Urge Veterans To Have Dental Work Completed Promptly

Department of Veterans Affairs today urged that the dental treatment of all veterans be brought to completion as quickly as possible. Letters have been sent to all dentists in the province asking them to co-operate to the fullest possible extent in this regard.

Veterans who still have authorized dental treatment uncompleted are requested to have such treatment finished promptly, as it is possible that soon their entitlement may lapse due to tightening of regulations.

Veterans taking training courses under D.V.A. are advised that before receiving dental treatment, they must apply to the district supervising dentist, Shaughnessy Hospital Extension, or to the dental officer in charge of the U.B.C. Dental Clinic for treatment authorization. D.V.A. cannot pay for treatment which has not been thus authorized.

Sea Lampreys Found On B.C. Salmon

Reports from Vancouver of a Victoria fisherman finding a vicious blood-sucking sea lamprey on a fine salmon are causing no concern among officers of the Provincial Fisheries Department.

George J. Alexander, deputy fisheries minister for B.C., reported that the lampreys have frequently been found before, and grow from 10 to 15 inches long. They are one of a series of parasites which live from salmon and other fish.

The Vancouver report, made by the Canadian Press, said that Tom Cartwright of Victoria, fishing off Bowen Island, had found a 13-inch lamprey on the belly of a 23-pound spring salmon. Mr. Alexander said the sea lampreys had been found frequently before on salmon.

There were no reports to the Provincial Fisheries Department that the lampreys have been increasing in number. Mr. Alexander said he didn't think the sea lampreys were any more dangerous to salmon than other species of fish found in B.C. waters.

The sea lampreys cling to the salmon as they go up rivers to spawn. Mr. Alexander said that quantities of them have been found in the Stamp and Nanaimo Rivers on Vancouver Island and undoubtedly they were present in other B.C. rivers.

PLAZA THEATRE

The Royal Family of the Benetts, in a theatrical sense, goes back farther than such long lines as the Barrymores or Tyrone Powers. Richard Bennett once traced the genealogy of his clan, which is of Scotch-English descent, and discovered that his forebears were strolling minstrels and players centuries ago.

This is the heritage of Joan Bennett, youngest of the famous Bennett brood, who is starring in "The Macomber Affair," currently at the Plaza Theatre.

'The Unfaithful' Dramatic Story

"The Unfaithful," a highly dramatic story of a returned serviceman and his marital problems is the new screen attraction at the Royal Theatre beginning today.

Ann Sheridan is cast in the exacting role of the unfaithful wife in the new Warner Bros. drama, with Zachary Scott and Lew Ayres in other starring roles.

Eve Arden, Jerome Cowan, Steven Geray and John Hoyt head the list of supporting players.

"The Unfaithful" was directed by Vincent Sherman and produced for Warners by Jerry Wald. Max Steiner composed the film's original music.

ATLAS THEATRE

Macdonald Carey, veteran of three years in the U.S. Marine Corps, makes his return to the screen in Paramount's new comedy-romance, "Suddenly It's Spring," now at the Atlas Theatre with Fred MacMurray and Paulette Goddard sharing top billing.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Esther Williams, as the society girl who sues a newspaper for slander in "Easy to Wed," new M-G-M technicolor musical currently on the Oak Bay screen. Van Johnson, Lucille Ball and Keenan Wynn are others in this multi-star musical hit.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Coupled with his highly successful career as an actor for some 40 years, Edward Arnold has been indulging his leaning toward inventiveness. Arnold at present holds patents on a device to blow warm air through orange orchards to prevent frost damage, which ought to be a boon to California ranchers.

Arnold's current film appearance is in Paramount's comedy, "Dear Ruth," which co-stars William Holden and Joan Caulfield, and now at the Capitol Theatre.

RIO THEATRE

Blue blood runs freely in the veins of Sidney Blackmer, who has a prominent role in support of Erich von Stroheim. Vera Hruba Ralston and Richard Arlen in Republic's "The Lady and the Monster," a current attraction at the Rio Theatre.

The first governor of North Carolina, Ralph Lane, was a maternal ancestor.

2 Recover From Effects Of Gas Fumes In Tannery

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A. V. MacKie, 40, of Vancouver, and Don Thomas of South Westminister are in fair condition in hospital today after escaping death from poisonous fumes at the Leckie tannery in nearby South Westminister.

The two men, along with Gill Josephson, were repairing tanks below floor level. Josephson and MacKie came out of the tank when they felt the effect of the fumes, but went back when they noticed that Thomas was lying face down in water at the bottom of the tank. MacKie was unable to climb out of the tank a second time and had to summon aid from other employees.

Hunt For Missing Man In Sixth Day

Friends, relatives and Greater Victoria police today were still on the lookout for William Jarvie, 71, of 546 David Street, who has been missing since Friday and is believed to be wandering about this area in a dazed condition suffering from a loss of memory.

Following publication of the missing man's picture, police received a phone call late last evening from a person reporting he had seen a person of the description in the paper sitting on one of the benches along the Dallas Road waterfront on the afternoon of the day before.

This person said that when he approached the man he became frightened and dashed off into the bushes. City police searched the bush area last night without results.

Anyone seeing a man who fits the following description is asked to communicate with city or other municipal police forces immediately as this will result in immediate action by the law officers in the area concerned: Five feet, eight inches tall, medium build, wearing a dark brown tweed suit, blue shirt, felt hat, a two-toned sweater of cream and green colors and black shoes. His hair is grey at the temples.

Film Council News

The film "Yucatan," colored travelogue of the eastern province of Mexico, is in Victoria for a limited time. It will be shown to the Greater Victoria Philatelic Society Sept. 24 and to El Club Espanol Sept. 27, together with the film "Lima Family," which depicts a day in the lives of an upper-class family of Lima, the capital of Peru.

Musical films at present available at the Victoria Public Library include Toronto Symphony

Bring Your Attic Downstairs

Instead of your attic being a place for odds and ends why not furnish it to give you downstairs comfort. Every household has need of an extra room or two, for the unexpected guest, children's playroom, den or study, so why not plan right now to make fuller use of your home! The job of transforming the attic is easy and inexpensive with Birch Plywood, and there's no decorating problem, since the beautiful grain of this plywood itself provides an attractive background for any style of furnishing. Inexpensive, easy-to-use Birch Plywood has many uses also in new construction for hallways, living and dining-rooms, stairways and basements, also for stores and offices where, hardwood paneling means economy in maintenance.

Dizzy Dean Signs With Browns

Jerome "Dizzy" Dean (right) grins happily as he signs a contract to pitch for the St. Louis Browns. Dean's last year as a player was for the Chicago Cubs in 1940. Since then he has been broadcasting baseball in St. Louis. His best baseball year was 1934 when he won 30 and lost seven for the Cardinals. With him above are Ed Smith (left) of the Browns and Johnny O'Hara, Dean's radio partner.

200 Seek Berths On Detroit Ice Squads

Jack Adams, graduated from coach of the National Hockey League Red Wings to manager of Detroit's ice chain, will be seeing hockey players in his sleep. Some 200 hopefuls were on hand today for the official opening of the training season at Detroit's Olympia, aspiring for places on the Wings, Indianapolis Capitols, Omaha of the United States League and Detroit's newly-acquired junior team, Windsor Spitfires.

The Red Wings had so many players, they broke them up into two advance camps. The 50 or so who trained at Waterloo, Ont., including such veterans as Syd Abel, Billy Taylor, Pete Horeck, Ted Lindsay, Eddie Bruneteau, Jim Conacher, Doug McCaig, Leo Reise and Harry Lumley, will begin skating at Olympia today. The remainder, who trained at Saskatoon, are due in about Thursday.

The Saskatoon section of the Red Wings stopped off at Winnipeg last night en route to Detroit and walloped Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League, 8 to 2, in an exhibition. Jim McFadden and Max McNab, lanky rookie centre from Watson, Sask., each scored three goals for the Wings.

QUILTY LOOKS GOOD

Johnny Quilty, the centre who didn't see much action with Montreal Canadiens last season until playoff time, is looking like the pick of the early crop at Montreal. In mid-season condition, he centred Bobby Carse and Jimmy Peters, the best line in yesterday's Red-Whites exhibition.

hibition. He scored two goals, Peters four.

Graduation day: The Maple Leafs moved Tod Sloan up from Pittsburgh Hornets, working out with them at St. Catharines, Ont., and inserted him between Gus Bodnar and Gaye Stewart yesterday. The new "fourth line," worked like a team to gether, scoring five goals in a 50-minute scrimmage.

Cyril Huck, the netminder from Notre Dame, Sask., is leaving the Maple Leafs camp to return home today, his trout with the Toronto team ruined by a groin injury. He may be recalled for another chance when the injury clears up, probably in a month.

Chicago's potent scoring combination—the Bentley brothers and Bill Mosenko—are clicking again in the Black Hawks work-out at Regina. The Hawks still appear to be having defence woes. However, with Johnny Mariucci and Bill Gadsby about the only sure rearguard starters.

Manager Frank Boucher, anxious to test his Rangers, has matched them in an exhibition game against New Haven Ramblers Sunday at Lake Placid, N.Y., where both are working out.

Ben Geraghty Gets Outright Release From Spokane Club

SPOKANE (AP)—The Spokane Indians baseball team has released manager Ben Geraghty and has received a request for release from Levi McCormack, veteran outfielder, retiring owner Sam Collins said today.

Geraghty, who asked to be made a free agent, will be replaced as manager by "Buddy" Ryan, a new co-owner of the Western International League Club. McCormack was not available today, Collins said, and his request was not acted upon.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers, which has had a "working agreement" with the Indians, announced promotion of four Spokane players to clubs of higher classification.

They were Buddy Hicks, shortstop, and Bob Costello, ace pitcher, to St. Paul in the American Association; Bill Sampson, pitcher, to Mobile in the Southern Association, and Bob Morgan, third baseman, to Montreal in the International League.

The Dodgers also announced that pitcher Allan Hilde and infielders Lamar Bridges and Russell Rose of the class C Santa Barbara Club in the California State League would report to Spokane next spring.

Norm Baker Paces Adanacs To Easy Win Over Rossland

VANCOUVER (CP)—New Westminster Adanacs Tuesday night crushed the Rossland Redmen 24 to 6 in the opening game of a best-of-three series for the British Columbia senior lacrosse championship and the right to meet an eastern Canada representative for the Dominion crown.

The lopsided Adanac victory installed them as favorites to capture the Kilmarnock trophy, emblem of the British Columbia championship.

Norm Baker led the New Westminster attack with four goals and a pair of assists with ample assistance coming from little Archie Browning who also scored four times. Big Bob Lee flashed the light three times as did Johnny Douglas. Whitey Severson and Ralph Douglas, each scored twice.

Jack Laface led the Rossland team with a trio of goals, the others going to Ray Scott, G Anderson and D. Davies.

The A's took command from the opening whistle and blanked the Redmen in the first quarter while scoring a quartette of goals themselves.

Portland Coast Ball Club Might Move To Vancouver

PORTLAND (AP)—The Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, will move right out of Portland if the city carries out its threat of condemning the present ball park, William Mulligan, Beaver vice-president, asserted today.

He said the club could not build a new ball park in time for the 1948 season, and said if the old park is condemned there could be only two courses of action:

1. To transfer the Coast League franchise to Vancouver, B.C., for next year.
2. To play all games on the road.

He said construction of a new park—the site has been purchased—would begin as soon as "practicable"—it all depends on labor and materials.

He estimated it could not be ready until mid-summer, next year or 1949.

Of the possible transfer to Vancouver, Mulligan commented only, "The owner of the club lives in Vancouver, you know."

The owner is George W. Norgan, Canadian brewery owner, who said, "We want to do the right thing by Portland and justify our owning a franchise, but it is impossible to build a stadium this winter."

Last year's Canadian Legion football squad will practice at Macdonald Park tonight at 7. Interested players are asked to turn out.

United Meet Nanaimo In Soccer Inaugural

Victoria United, a team that showed considerable promise at the close of last year's campaign, only to be thwarted by the now Canadian champion St. Andrews eleven of Vancouver, will make its first appearance of the 1947 Pacific Coast League schedule at Athletic Park, Saturday, at 2.30, against one of the club's oldest and most persistent rivals, Nanaimo.

During the past few weeks, the players under the guidance of Roy Barnes, recently appointed manager, have been putting in some diligent and strenuous practice sessions in preparation for the season's inaugural.

With but two exceptions, Barnes has settled on his starting line-up and in announcing the first team has come up with a couple of surprises.

The question of who was going to take over the important centre-forward spot may be answered in the announcement that Joe Robbins, fine full-back in "past years," will start at that position. Robbins started his soccer career at centre and Barnes is confident that he will make a success of the job.

Lou Heppenstall, the smooth passing inside right, will be in his usual spot and will be flanked on right wing by either Andy Anderson, his teammate from the Canadian Legion or Earl Barnswell of last year's United.

MORGAN TO PLAY

Speedy Ab Travis, one of the leading goal scorers last season, will move into the inside left position and he will have as his flanker, veteran Noel Morgan, another speedster and a fine team performer. Nip Sage may fill in at either of the inside positions if the going gets tough against the up-landers.

Joe Travis, captain elect of this year's team, and Red McMillan are assured of starting assignments on the half line.

Yankee Hurlers Strive For Starting Honors

New York Yankee pitching, inconsistent since mid-July, is looking better with every passing day. Manager Bucky Harris has most of the staff outdoing one another in a wholesome rivalry for that coveted starting job against Brooklyn Dodgers in the world series. Allie Reynolds, Frank Shea, Bobo Newsom and Bill Bevens are in the running, with the ailing Spud Chandler beginning to show signs of life in batting practice.

Reynolds and Shea yesterday tossed the Yanks to a double-header victory over Washington, 2 to 0 and 3 to 1. Reynolds, working eight innings, blanked the Senators with six hits, before yielding to a pinch-hitter. Shea gave only two hits, although he walked seven. In his eight-inning chore, Reynolds' shutout was his 19th success, and Shea picked up win No. 14.

Brooklyn also started work with the series in mind. Joe Hatten was given a five-inning outing against New York to gain credit for his 17th victory, 6 to 1. Dan Bankhead tossed the last four innings after Hatten went out for a pinch-hitter and most of the reserves were thrown into action.

CARDS WIN

St. Louis, a bit concerned about Boston's challenge for second money, disposed of Pittsburgh, 5 to 4, despite Ralph Kiner's 51st homer.

Chicago trounced Cincinnati, 7 to 2, in the other scheduled National League action, pounding Johnny Vander Meer and two successors for 17 hits.

Canadian Women Suffer Defeat In U.S. National Golf

DETROIT (AP)—Gusty winds which swept the rolling fairways of Franklin Hills Country Club Tuesday failed to halt a steady parade of favorites through first-round matches in the women's United States national amateur golf championship.

Medalist Louise Suggs, diminutive Lithia Springs, Ga., star who played within two strokes of par for the second straight day while downing Dorothy Ellis, Indianapolis school teacher 6 and 4.

Two Ontario women in the tournament fared less well than the American stars. Mrs. John A. McDougald of Toronto was beaten 4 and 2 by Sally Sessions of Muskegon, Mich. Mrs. C. H. Shuttleworth of Hamilton, Ont., was eliminated 4 and 2 by Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich. Grace Lenczyk, 20-year-old Newington, Conn., holder of the Canadian women's open crown,

ANOTHER link with those colorful hockey days of the first decade of the century was severed with the death in Portland last week-end of Bobby Rowe. During his career in the old Pacific Coast Hockey League

Rowe was recognized as one of the toughest defence players that ever hit an opposing forward. Stocky and rugged, Rowe was of the old school and any time a forward got past him he was lucky if he escaped in one piece. Rowe was a hockey player who was powerful on his skates and it took a good solid bump to get him off balance. Built close to the ice he could hand out punishment to opponents much heavier than himself.

AS a youngster who was fortunate to be working for a newspaper and grabbed off the odd pass in the days of the old Seattle Metropolitans I well remember that great defence combination of Rowe and Gordon Fraser. At that time Fraser was just a youngster breaking into professional hockey and he later developed into a real smart defenceman with the Victoria Cougars. Fraser was an apt pupil under the old master Rowe and those seasons he partnered with Bobby paid off in later years. Rowe had a lot of old-time friends in Victoria and his death must have been a great shock.

VICTORIA soccer followers who made a trip to Vancouver for the Dominion Cup games between St. Andrews and Winnipeg Scottish came back thoroughly disappointed over the exhibitions. As one fan remarked to me: "St. Andrews could easily have won the first game by 10 to 0, as the boys just held back and loafed. I was in a seat close to the St. Andrews goal in the second half and might just as well have not been in the park for all the play I saw." From a financial standpoint it was a good thing a lot of tickets had been sold in advance for the second game or there wouldn't have been those 2,160 on hand.

ANOTHER Victorian who happened to engage several of the Winnipeg players in conversation, after the first game, told me the prairie boys expressed the opinion they had left the better club behind them. They were referring to Montreal Carle, beaten by the Manitoba champions in the semifinal play-downs. From all reports the Montreals played a short-passing style which might easily have provided St. Andrews with better competition. The kick and rush style of the Scottish proved no problem to the clever ball-handlers and experienced members of the Vancouver eleven. However, nothing can be taken away from St. Andrews on their smashing triumph. The Saints have a great football machine and one that is going to take some beating in the forthcoming Coast League campaign.

Great DiMaggio Gives Yanks Outfield Edge

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees have been installed as heavy favorites over Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1947 world series which starts Tuesday, largely because they have, in Joe DiMaggio, one of the greatest outfielders in the game today.

No flycatcher on the Dodgers can come close to matching the Yankee clipper either at bat or in the field, although in Dixie Walker the Brooks have one of the most dependable and smartest hitters in baseball.

It is doubtful even if Walker or Pete Reiser, best of the Dodgers' outfielders, can match Tommy Henrich, hustling Yankee rightfielder who with Johnny Lindell comprises just about the best outfield in the majors. This trio rates the call over Walker, Reiser and either Carl Furillo or Gene Hermanski.

Although DiMaggio is the only outfielder hitting over .300, each of the Yankee trio has belted 10 or more home runs and Henrich has driven in more runs than even his illustrious centerfield mate, Henrich, with 95 runs batted in, is second only to Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox in the league. He has clouted 16 home runs. DiMaggio has batted in 94 runs and hammered 19 out of the park.

GOOD THROWERS

In the field the Yankee picket line leaves nothing to be desired. Each can run and get 'em and each can throw with the best. DiMaggio is reputed to have one of the most accurate throwing arms in baseball.

The fine all-around work of this regular trio has overshadowed the play of 24-year-old Al Clark, a hard-hitting outfielder acquired from Newark of the International League early in August.

The Dodger outfield, despite its lack of home-run punch, could have come close to providing a match for DiMaggio and company if Reiser, a great player before the war, could have escaped some of the numerous injuries he has incurred the last few seasons. He currently is being "rested" following his latest mishap—a twisted ankle.

Reiser still has been able to pace his mates with the stick, batting .312 in 107 games. He also has outshone his mates in the field with only three errors in 244 chances. Walker, a veteran of 16 years in the big time, is another better-than-300 batsman. He has driven in 92 runs. Only his legs (he is 37 years old today) keep him from getting the call over Henrich in right field. His 10 errors are "high" among the fly-chasers on both sides.

A real problem faces boss Burt Shotton of the Brooks when it comes to selecting his third outfielder. All season long he has alternated Furillo and Hermaniski with Ed Miksis, Arky Vaughan and Al Vionfridd getting an occasional assignment in left field.

Californian Takes 49½-Pound Tye

PORT ALBERNI—A 49½ lb. tye salmon, second biggest caught here this season, was brought in Monday by Ed Fourcher, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Fourcher had become a member of the local tye club at 1 in the afternoon and was out only about 20 minutes when the big one struck his Lake Tahoe spoon. Twenty minutes' play brought the fish to gaff.

Eagles' first division soccer squad will practice at Heywood Avenue tonight at 6.30. All of last year's players and interested parties are asked to turn out.

Seals Remain One Game In Front Of Coast Loop Pack

Time was running out fast today for the Los Angeles Angels in their home stretch pursuit of the San Francisco Seals for the Coast League baseball pennant. The Seals hold a one-game lead with six games left to play for each team.

The neck-and-neck leaders both massacred second division pitchers last night, the Seals rapping out 15 blows to beat San Diego, 10 to 3, and the Angels letting go a 22-hit bombardment to snow under Sacramento, 18 to 2.

Portland's Beavers, meantime, increased their third-place margin over Oakland to two games, beating Hollywood, 2 to 1, while Seattle trounced the fourth-place Oaks, 12 to 7. The Rainiers still had a slim chance to enter the first division and thereby the president's cup play-off, being five games behind Oakland, with six to play in the final week of the regular season.

San Francisco took on the Padres ace pitcher, Tom Seals and beat him, along with two others, getting a four-run lead in the second, featured by Don White's three-run homer. Roy Nicely homered for the Seals in the seventh.

The Seattle victory over Oakland was a virtual Lou Novikoff night, the burly binger homering three times. Oakland, however, outhit the Rainiers, 13 to 9.

Robbery Of City Dwelling In Daylight Nets Thief $25

Another report of a daylight robbery of a city home—there have been several of this type in the last few weeks—was contained on the city police blotter today.

The latest occurrence developed yesterday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 6 when W. E. Drummond was away from his 1134 Dallas Road home. A basement window was kicked out to gain entry. All rooms were prowled.

A total of $25 in bills was taken from a purse on the kitchen table, but $4 in silver was not touched. According to Detectives Louis Gallan and Alex Briggs the person who engineered this must have been known to the police dog kept in the basement as there is no evidence of a struggle between man and dog or report from neighbors of a dog kicking up a fuss.

City police were informed this morning by Murray McNeish, 1568 Vining Street, that a toolbox, painted green, was taken from his car overnight while parked in his driveway. The box contained $200 worth of assorted tools, such as wrenches, feeler gauges, and pliers.

M. G. Meiklejohn, 1126 Richardson Street, reported to city police that an attempt had been made to enter the house he has under construction at 353 Cook Street.

Victoria Officer Drowns In Yukon

The accidental death by drowning of Alec Ian Halkett, of Victoria, navigating officer on the Yukon River steamers of the White Pass and Yukon Route Co., was reported here today by Vancouver offices of the company.

Mr. Halkett's home was at Ten Mile Point, where he leaves his wife, the former Betty Cornwell, and a nine-month-old son. He was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Halkett, Vancouver. He also leaves a brother, Gavin, in Edmonton, and another brother, Hugh, who is an officer with the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service.

Thomas Rigby, 3020 Balfour Avenue, has written Mayor Percy George, asking that a hydrant be placed near the Adam estate, to protect neighboring property from bush fires.

Power Commission Appeal Expected To Wind Up Today

The appeal of the British Columbia Power Commission from the ruling of Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson disallowing its appeal from the valuation placed on expropriated properties of Naimo-Duncan Utilities Ltd., because, in the judge's opinion, notice of appeal was not given within the 30 days allowed, is expected to conclude in Appeal Court today.

Alfred Bull, K.C., began arguments for the respondent company today, and asked the court to maintain the decision of the trial judge. Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., appearing for the West Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation, one of the companies concerned in the issue, was also expected to address the court.

The case for the B.C. Power Commission was brought to a close yesterday by H. W. Davey, K.C., counsel.

The action which involved more than a $1,000,000 with regard to the evaluation of power generating plants expropriated by the Power Commission, may eventually wind up in the Supreme Court of Canada and the Privy Council, counsel in the case have indicated.

Gradual Leveling Of Prices Seen In 2 Years By Weekly Publishers

Canadian weekly newspaper publishers, who keep their ears close to Canadian public opinion, sense an economic recession sometime in the near future, but believe prices will not drop to prewar levels, although they will be considerably less than they are today.

None of the weekly publishers questioned felt that Canada was facing a real threat of an economic disaster such as that which followed the stock market crash of the fall of 1929. Majority thought the recession would take place very gradually, anywhere from a year to two and a half years from now.

Walter Ashfield, president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, in convention today at the Empress Hotel, feels prices in Canada should be controlled if the cost of living is to remain within limits, and he felt the government had acted too swiftly in decontrolling goods and services.

He was careful to point out that he was expressing his own opinion, not those of the association which represented every political party and every phase of Canadian thought.

Mr. Ashfield is publisher of the Grenfell (Sask.) Sun, a weekly with a circulation of 1,400. Grenfell is on the C.P.R. main line east of Regina.

Concurring was W. E. McCartney, Brampton, Ont. Mr. McCartney is managing director and secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association.

Believing Canada was in an inflationary spiral which was following the same trend as that shown in U.S., he believed that it was a fundamental certainty that the spiral would continue because while Canada was a sovereign nation, Canada's economy is tied so closely to that of the U.S.

A break of prices will not come for a while, in the opinion of Mr. McCartney, and when it does come it will be gradual—a generally leveling out. The eventual level will be not as high as prices are today, nor will they be as low as before the war, Mr. McCartney feels.

Brampton is the home of some of the finest Jersey herds in Canada, Mr. McCartney says, and it is also the greatest horticulture centre in the nation with more flowers produced under glass than anywhere else.

J. M. Greenblatt, who publishes the Swift Current Sun, thinks Canada is pretty near the peak now in the price spiral and that prices will not be brought down by buyers' strikes or any outward action, which he feels are contrary to the Canadian way of life, but by inward restraint of the consuming public. This will result in a gradual return to lower prices.

The "break," Mr. Greenblatt thinks, will come in about two years.

Hugh M. Tait, a "herring choker" from Woodstock, N.B., who admits he doesn't eat many herrings, foresees a gradual leveling off of prices which will find prices below present levels.

A veteran of the Atlantic ferry command during the war, Mr. Tait is just starting out in the newspaper publishing business, having acquired the Woodstock Sentinel. He is attending the convention to get some ideas for his paper from some of the veteran publishers.

Lawrence G. Gage, who owns the St. Johns (Que.) News, thinks the leveling off effect will not start for at least another 18 months and it may be two and a half years. Canadians, he said, can't live any better than they are living today.

Decision Handed Down In Vancouver Labor Dispute

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane refused the interim injunction of operators of five steel and engineering plants in Vancouver and Burnaby, who sought to restrain Locals 3546 and 2655 of the United Steelworkers of America from striking, picketing and interfering with the operation of the plant.

The judge felt that the issues raised in the application for an injunction should be dealt with at the trial, adding that the trial should be held as early as possible.

However, he reserved the applicants the liberty to again apply if changes in the circumstances warranted a hearing in court.

In handing down judgment, Mr. Justice Macfarlane determined some important points with regard to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which may have far-reaching effects when the case goes to trial.

The contention of the operators that Locals 3546 and 2655 were not legal bargaining agents because they were unregistered organizations, he dismissed, but he held that the parent union, United Steelworkers of America, was not a bargaining agent. He thought the parent union should be dismissed from the case.

The judge also held that the strike complained of was unlawful, as it did not conform to the I.C.A. Act.

He rejected, however, the contention that local unions could not call strikes. "They act by their agents," said the judge.

He also ruled that where a union is acting as bargaining agent, the I.C.A. Act repeals by implication the protection against damage suits for any wrongful act connected with the strike afforded by the Trades Union Act. Therefore the new act left open to suit those trade unions who, having become bargaining agents, have declared a strike.

Mayor Welcomes Publishers To City

The important part the newspaper profession can play in fostering international, and even interprovincial friendships by the gathering and dissemination of news in a fair and unbiased manner was stressed by Mayor Percy George at the luncheon today when the city entertained 450 delegates to the Weekly Newspaper Association convention.

Mayor George welcomed the delegates to the city and gave them a brief outline of the history of Victoria and Vancouver Island. He extended a particularly warm welcome to those coming from eastern Canada, because, he said, he felt that the associations made in such ventions added bonds to Canadian unity.

In the understanding of each other gained at the convention, the mayor said, they would be in a better position to interpret Canada to their own communities through the medium of their newspapers.

Newspaper Week

National newspaper week will be held across Canada Oct. 1 to 8, it was reported by W. E. McCartney, managing director of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, in his report to the association's convention here today.

He asked each publisher to publish an editorial front page story or promotion advertisement acquainting readers with the importance of the newspaper service to them and their community, during the week.

Court action is being revived against householders who fail to have radio licenses, it was indicated by a $1 fine and $2.50 costs imposed in city police court today.

J. W. Bantnick, general secretary of the National Association of Kinsmen, Toronto, will be a special guest at a meeting of the Victoria Kinsmen Club at the Pacific Club Sept. 25, at 6:30. Deputy District Governor Nat Pullen will attend the meeting.

The Cordova Bay Community Club will sponsor Pro-Rec classes at McMorran's Pavilion, commencing Oct. 7. An organization meeting will be held next Monday at 8. Ladies wishing to join are requested to register at any of the stores at Cordova Bay.

The S.P.C.A. has written the City Council asking that the kennel by-law be amended to conform more closely with that of Vancouver. The organization claims Victoria's by-law is inadequate and overlooks the matter of public health and the welfare of animals concerned.

A. D. Clelland, Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association, has written Mayor Percy George asking for an appointment to discuss the sales tax. He reported that his organization as well as the B.C. Beef Cattle Growers' Association, the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, and the B.C. Fruit Growers, all favored the tax.

Laundry workers and dry cleaners at the New Method Laundries have had their wages increased following negotiations with the Laundry Workers' Union, Local No. 1, Victoria. The increase covers all steady employees of the company as an extension to their present wage agreement.

Friday's meeting between directors of the Victoria Builders' Exchange and delegates of the Carpenters' Union will be held in the committee-room of the Chamber of Commerce at 8 instead of 4:30, Roy T. Loughheed, secretary of the exchange, announced today. Carpenters' wages will be discussed.

Tim Jack, 456 Herald Street, suffered a possible fracture of the left collarbone and severe contusions behind the right ear when struck with a piece of lumber while at work in the James Bay Lumber Company at the Dalziel Box Company this morning. Sgt. Peris Atkinson and Constables Brooke Douglass and Brian Ferguson attended and conveyed the injured man to Jubilee Hospital.

An elderly gentleman who said he had made a Douglas Street left-hand turn, contrary to the city by-law, "because the coast was clear of oncoming cars in the direction he was turning," drew the comment from Magistrate H. C. Hall this morning that many persons who came be-

World In Danger Because Of Russia Says Australian

CANBERRA (Reuter)—Robert Menzies, Australian Opposition Leader, declared today in a House of Representatives foreign affairs debate that the world stood in great danger because of the policy of Russia.

The Liberal Party leader charged other United Nations members with retreating before Soviet policy and urged they should concentrate on examining what he called Russia's abuse of the big power veto and the bona fides of her participation in the work of the Security Council.

"The world at this moment stands in great danger," he said. "No one can doubt the cause of that danger is the policy and action of the Soviet Union . . .

APPEASEMENT SEEN
"The democracies, which have been pursuing a policy of appeasement similar to that before the war, should say to the Soviet Union: 'Thus far and no farther.'"

He bitterly attacked the Australian government for its reference of the Indonesian dispute to the Security Council.

This might rebound on Australia's head in the future if some ingenious theorist could refer to the white Australia policy or to her treatment of New Guinea natives—ignoring, as Australia did in the Indonesia dispute, that this was a domestic affair.

Aged Women Rescued

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten aged women, one 91 years old, and some of them crippled, were overcome by smoke and rescued with 11 other elderly women Tuesday night after fire had broken out in a rooming house. They were taken to hospitals, where they were treated for exhaustion.

fore him on dangerous driving charges had similar stories of seeing no other vehicles. "The law must be observed and you will be fined $5," the magistrate commented.

Saanich Police have asked other police departments in the area to be on the lookout for 13-year-old Robert Clough who has been missing from his 3171 Albina Street home since 8:30 yesterday morning. His description is 5 feet two inches in height, blond hair, blue eyes, is wearing a pair of green pants, a dark brown sweater with a deer on the front of it and in addition might be wearing a blue jacket with a fur collar. Persons seeing a boy of this description are asked to communicate with the police.

C.I.L. Institutes
Pension Plans For
7,400 Employees

More than 7,400 regular employees of Canadian Industries Limited, which operates the plant on James Island, are potential beneficiaries under a revised pension plan, effective Oct. 1, which provides retirement pensions commencing at age 65 for those with at least 15 years' service, entirely at the company's expense.

Retirement on pension before age 65 is made possible for employees with 30 years' service, for they may retire at any time between 60 and 65, if they wish. Disability pensions are provided in cases of continuing disability suffered at work or away from work, after completion of 15 years' service.

Amount of pension (either for retirement or disability) is calculated by multiplying the number of years of the employee's pension service by 1 per cent of his average monthly earnings during the final 10 years before retirement. For example, an employee with 40 years' pension service at age 65 would be eligible for a monthly retirement pension of 40 per cent of his average monthly earnings during his final 10 years of service. His pension would be payable for life.

The new retirement and disability pension plan was announced in a letter to employees from George W. Huggett, president and managing director. The new plan replaces the original C.I.L. pension plan introduced in 1919 and which provided for disability pensions only.

Polish Girls Working In Quebec Factory
Net $9.87 Weekly

OTTAWA (CP)—Rumors that the 100 Polish girls who recently were brought to Canada to work in a Quebec spinning mill were living under conditions of "virtual bondage" were denied in a report released Tuesday by the government which commented favorably on their living and working conditions.

The report was prepared by Victor Podolski, former Polish minister plenipotentiary to Canada and now an employee of the labor department. It concerned the 100 Polish girls flown to Canada from displaced persons camps of Europe by Ludger Dionne, Liberal member of Parliament for Beauce, to work in his spinning mill at St. Georges de Beauce.

Podolski, who visited the girls earlier this month, said his own opinion was that "the labor conditions of the Polish girls are quite satisfactory, that living conditions are very good and that the treatment is absolutely fair and truly Christian."

The report disclosed three of the girls had been released by mutual agreement and three others would be released shortly. Seven others have been released from spinning mill work to do household chores at the nuns' foyer, where the girls are housed and fed.

Attached to the report was a copy of the contract signed by the girls and Mr. Dionne. The latter undertook to provide employment for two years and the girls undertook to remain with the company for two years, but this could be reduced by mutual agreement.

The company undertook to pay the minimum wage throughout the two years. The difference between the minimum wage and the rate the girls would ordinarily get as they gained experience would be placed in a savings account and paid them at the end of two years.

The company had set a minimum rate of 21 cents an hour and a current rate of 25 cents compared with the 18 cents set as a minimum for the St. Georges zone. The weekly pay envelope averaged $9.87 for each girl after deduction of room and board charges.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR CONSENT TO TRANSFER OF BEER LICENSE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the first day of October, 1947, the undersigned intend to apply to the Liquor Control Board for consent to transfer of Beer License No. 1632, issued in respect of premises being part of a building known as Goldstream Hotel, situated at Goldstream District, in the Province of British Columbia, upon the lands described as the Northwest part of Section Two (2), Goldstream District, Victoria Land Registration District, in the Province of British Columbia, from Clifton Ramsey Robb to us, the undersigned George William Goddard of 1271 Union Avenue, Municipality of Saanich, Province of British Columbia, and Lewis Williams of 3951 Quadra Street, City of Victoria, Province of British Columbia.

DATED at Victoria, B.C. this 23rd day of September, 1947.

Information For War Veterans

Second of series of eight articles released by the Department of Veterans' Affairs deals with 10 items most frequently asked by B.C. veterans on awaiting returns allowances.

The article points out Dec. 31, 1947, is the final date that applications can be made for the allowance—unless discharge was subsequent to Jan. 1, 1946, in which case application can be made within one year of date of discharge.

There is an exception to this rule. A man who qualifies under Veterans' Land Act may make application within one year of his qualification.

The maximum period a veteran may receive awaiting returns is for his period of service or 52 weeks if service is over a year. "There are no exceptions!"

A veteran who has received awaiting returns allowances in connection with his business can sell out and reapply in connection with a new business... but, before he may receive further allowance he must wait the period of time he was previously on awaiting returns, or the length of time the profit on the sale would carry him at prevailing allowance rates.

Marshall Calling Chief Experts
Home To Attack 'Plan' Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Marshall is calling home his top experts on Western Europe's needs for an intensified attack on the critical problem of what the United States must do to help and when.

William L. Clayton, Under-Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, and Lewis W. Douglas, U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, are due to return next week to report on the 16-country Paris conference in which they had a direct hand.

Other officials who took part in the final stages of the Marshall Plan conference on European recovery already are back. Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's personal envoy to the Vatican, is en route home, presumably with first hand information on the views of Pope Pius.

Meanwhile, it was learned Marshall has been told by his top advisers that failure has met all searches for funds which could be used to meet Europe's needs before Congress can act on a long-range recovery program. The attitude of these advisers is that it must be "a special session or bust." The information presumably figured in Marshall's report to President Truman Monday.

APPEAL FOR FOOD

The French and Belgian Ambassadors submitted direct pleas for emergency food supplies to State Under-Secretary Robert A. Lovett Tuesday. French Ambassador Henri Bonnet said his country must have an increased allocation of wheat from the principal exporting countries for the remainder of the year. Baron Silvercruys, the Belgian envoy, told reporters the "food situation is gloomy everywhere."

A special governmental organization of economic specialists has been set up to study the calculation of the Paris conference that western Europe must have $22,440,000,000 in outside aid, chiefly from the United States, to get back on its feet by the end of 1951.

MIMIC WINNER

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Mountaineers had too much polish and scoring punch for Cornwall Seniors here Tuesday night and breezed to a 14 to 3 victory in the opening game of the best-of-three eastern Canada senior lacrosse finals.

The Ontario champs ran up a 5 to 0 lead in the first period.

Taft Gets Heckling
At Seattle Meeting

SEATTLE (AP)—A snarling, heckling demonstration, blamed by a Republican leader on "Communists," prompted Senator Robert Taft (Rep.-Ohio) to predict Tuesday night that such protest methods would "help the Republicans win the next election."

Ignoring those of his listeners who booed lustily his defence of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, the Ohio senator called for a reduction in taxes to help cut the high cost of living.

Keeping a bandaged left hand carefully at his side, Taft planned to return to a discussion of major political issues after an unruly meeting Tuesday night in which the small minority of an audience crowding a 2,100-seat auditorium noisily walked out during the senator's denunciation of labor leaders who have criticized the new law.

As the departing hecklers shouted: "We've had enough," Taft, his face grim, replied loudly:

"The whole propaganda against the Taft-Hartley Act relies on attempts to silence the arguments in favor of that act."

The audience, preponderantly Republican, drowned in resounding cheers the booing and the cat-calls of those who were departing.

Previously Taft had been slightly injured in the confusion of a railway station demonstration that Wilbur Zundel, president of the Young Men's Republican Club, had said "could only have been put on by Communists."

Drobny Beaten In California Tennis

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, 19-year-old Los Angeles municipal park courts product, provided the first major upset of the annual Pacific southwest tennis tournament Tuesday when he defeated Jaroslav Drobny, Czechoslovakian star, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5.

England lost its two remaining competitors when Bill Talbot, New York, defeated Geoffrey Paine, 6-2, 6-2, and Eddie Moyland, San Francisco, eliminated Tony Mattram, 6-1, 6-3.

In a belated second-round mingled with cheering Taft Admirers, a nervous driver slammed a car door on Taft's hand.
